GOP Will Try to Trim Harriman's Proposed Budget by $20 Million

Albany, Feb. 2 (AP)—Republican financial experts today sought ways of slashing millions from Gov. Harriman's proposed $1,494,700,000 budget.

It was estimated unofficially that Republican legislative leaders might trim the governor's record-smashing spending program by at least $20,000,000.

HOWEVER, the leaders—Sen. Walter J. Mahoney and Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck—said in a joint statement that "many hours of painstaking analysis" of the budget would be required before the GOP could size up the situation fully.

This analysis began immediately after Harriman had sent his budget to the Legislature yesterday. All appropriations are to be studied for possible "fat."

IT WAS ASSUMED the Republicans would toss out the Democratic governor's recommended $9,900,000 increase in state aid for New York city, which he proposed to grant by allowing the city a 25 per cent share of the motor vehicle license fees collected there.

It was believed also that they would reject Harriman's recommended appropriation of $3,000,000 for day-care centers. New York city would get the bulk of this money.

BELIEF WAS held in some Republican circles that scrutiny of the budget would uncover other appropriations the Republicans would likely feel could be trimmed.

It was pointed out that the governor's recommended expenditures for the new fiscal year beginning April 1, were an all-time high and $173,600,000 more than his estimated spending for the year now ending.

Last year, the Republican legislative leaders cut Harriman's budget by $16,800,000. They also blocked a 1955 increase in the gasoline tax. Later, through compromises, the Republicans restored about one-fifth of the $16,800,000.

Heck and Mahoney reminded Harriman that he had said five days after taking office last year that the state was "in a serious fiscal position."

THE LEADERS added that the governor's 1955-57 budget showed his statement was "a cheap piece of political fiction."

They said that "the finances of the state were then, as they are now, in sound condition."

Not only is the state revenue up for fiscal 1955-56, Mahoney and Heck said, "but the revenue outlook for 1956-57 is favorable enough to support income-tax reduction as well as increased spending of $174,000,000."

LAST YEAR, they said, Harriman "halted capital construction because the balances in the capital construction fund were decreasing. This year he states that this is the purpose for which the fund was intended and calls the $58,000,000 he plans to withdraw from the fund 'a reasonable amount.'"

The Republican chiefs declared that the people "should not be misled into belief that the governor's request for $185,000,000 in highway appropriations means that he intends to build more roads next year. The amount he intends to spend for highways is $75,200,000 an increase of only $2,700,000."

"ALSO MISLEADING," they asserted, "is the governor's apparent success in reducing debt as well as taxes while he is increasing expenditures. The 'debt reduction' is possible only because his debt table conveniently ignores $61,000,000 in commitments against the mental health bond issue."

The Republican legislative leaders praised Harriman for continuing the health and education programs they said were inaugurated or greatly expanded during Gov. Dewey's Republican administration.

They added, however, that "the governor's attempts to make some of these programs look completely new and to seem to claim them as his own are amusing to anyone familiar with the facts."

The Democratic leaders, Sen. Francis J. Mahoney and Assemblyman Eugene F. Bannigan said of Harriman's budget:

"It recognizes that government cannot stand still but must expand certain activities in existing agencies and undertake new functions to make it more responsive to the needs of the people."

IBM Expansion Plans Announced For West Coast

Los Angeles, Calif., Feb. 2—A multimillion dollar expansion of IBM's West Coast operations, the greatest regional expansion program in the company's history, was announced here Wednesday by Thomas J. Watson, Jr., president of International Business Machines Corporation. The broad program takes several forms:

A new 13-story office building and data processing center of advanced design in Los Angles. Construction will start at Wilshire Boulevard and Mariposa avenue in mid-1956, and occupation by 600 IBM people will get underway in mid-1957.

A six-story office building now nearing completion at Market and Front streets in San Francisco. Occupation by nearly 300 IBM people will begin later this month.

New manufacturing engineering and education facilities at San Jose. Approximately 400,000 square feet will be built during this year and occupied by 1,500 employes beginning in the fall.

A new office building in Santa Monica. Over 150 people moved into this two-story structure in mid-January.

Data processing centers in Portland and Seattle. These facilities, the first of their type in the Pacific Northwest to use electronic data processing machines, will be installed in Portland in March, in Seattle in June.

Commenting on the building program, Mr. Watson said: "On the Pacific Coast there is the largest concentration of giant electronic computers in the world, and we know from the healthy look of the business climate out here that the surface has only been scratched in the computer and data processing market. Within the next several months, scores more of these powerful tools will be installed in business, industry, and government enterprises in California, Oregon, and Washington. This is a major reason why IBM is building in Los Angeles and is expanding its activities up and down the coastal area."

Experiments Are Started On Hurricane Detection

Miami, Fla., Feb. 2 (AP)—The greatest concentrated attack ever made on one of man's most pressing weather problems—how to forestall disaster with perfect hurricane forecasts—will be launched in Florida in May.

Robert H. Simpson, tall, hard-driving research expert of the U. S. Weather Bureau's Washington staff, disclosed final plans for the ambitious project today after a conference here with navy and air force experts who will participate.

Coming on the heels of history's most terrible hurricane season, the immediate aim of the program, in which scores of scientists of several nations will participate, will be to perfect a foolproof 24-hour hurricane forecast.

Later, they expect to develop forecasting techniques to a point where weather men can say three days in advance when and at what place a hurricane will crash our coastlines.

And in working toward this goal, they hope by cloud seeding to find a way to avert future tragedies by steering these mighty tropical storms away from densely-populated areas.

Horrified by the fury of the 1955 hurricanes which took a two billion dollar damage toll, the greatest in history, Congress appropriated a half million dollars to get the project started and is expected to vote more money as needed . . . The work probably will cost eight million dollars.

Included in this giant effort to solve the complex secrets of nature's greatest storms will be:

1. Flying electronic "brains" that will probe hurricanes up to 40,000 feet to determine why they generate such tremendous power and why they travel as they do along fickle, serpentine paths over land and sea.

2. High-flying navy rockets that will soar 50 miles to take the first photographs of whole hurricanes covering hundreds of square miles.

Scheduled to last 30 months, through three hurricane seasons, the investigation might go on five years or more.

It will be the job of the flying "brains" to find out what goes on inside a hurricane.

These planes will be loaded with meteorological instruments of all kinds, some never before used, which will measure 28 different factors, such as wind velocity and direction, temperatures, pressures, moisture and up and down drafts. They are capable of taking new calculation once each second and recording information never before known about a hurricane's inner workings.

The navy's picture-taking rockets will be launched when hurricanes are several hundred miles offshore. Cameras attached to the rockets will photograph the storms, then drop off and descend by parachute to waiting navy vessels.

Dealers Aim at Enforceable Contracts With Car Makers

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—The National Automobile Dealers Assn. (NADA) wound up its 39th annual convention last night with the declared No. 1 objective of obtaining "fair and equitable" contract terms from car makers.

Carl E. Fribley, newly elected NADA president, said that even if the companies revise the terms voluntarily, NADA will insist on legislation to make the contracts enforceable in the courts.

Fribley, from Norwich, N. Y., said this will be necessary because company managements change, and new managements might alter the franchises.

Dealers contend that the threat of franchise cancellation—which under present terms may be done without the right of court appeal by the dealer—has permitted factories to overload the dealers with new cars and heavy sales quotas. Most of them contend their profits have declined while those of manufacturers are soaring.

Auto Toll Of 38,300 Below '41

Chicago, Feb. 2 (AP)—Traffic accidents killed 38,300 Americans in 1955—one of the heaviest tolls in history.

The motor vehicle held its perilous place as the No. 1 killer in accidents.

The National Safety Council today reported that last year:

ACCIDENTS OF all types brought death to 92,000 persons, injured 9,200,000 and resulted in $10,300,000,000 in financial setbacks—such as equipment and property damage, lost wages and medical expenses.

Traffic accidents alone cost 38,300 lives, approximately 1,350,000 non-fatal injuries and $4,700,000,000 in terms of cash.

Last year's motor vehicle death total tied with the 1953 toll for the third highest on record. It was 1,669 under the all-time high of 39,969 reached in 1941 and approached closer to the 39,643 registered in 1937, the runner-up year.

THE 1955 traffic toll showed an eight per cent gain over the 35,586 total of 1954.

Traffic deaths rode a steady upward trend last year, and zoomed to record holiday heights during the Christmas period. The December toll of 3,960 was the largest for any month since December, 1941.

The growth of population and the increase in travel also figure in comparisons. The 1955 death rate per 100 million vehicle miles was estimated at 6.4. That was two per cent higher than in 1954—which had the lowest rate on record.

THE NUMBER OF deaths from all kinds of accidents—92,000—showed an increase of three

Highway Link Is Arranged

Jersey-New York Spur Set for '57

Ridgewood, N. J., Feb. 2 (AP)—Agreements have been signed to link the N. J. Garden State Parkway and the N. Y. Thruway with a 12-mile spur which officials say may be ready for the July 4 traffic crush in 1957.

Bartram D. Tallamy, representing the N. Y. State Thruway Authority at the signing ceremonies yesterday, said the $22,300,000 link will open a new avenue of travel between New England and upper New York state and the New Jersey shore.

BY 1958, he said, five million vehicles each year are expected to cross the Hudson river from New England on the Tappan Zee bridge and travel south on the two express highways to New Jersey points.

New Jersey State Sen. Walter Jones (R.-Bergen) pointed out one problem arising from the spur which will cross the state border at Montvale.

JONES SAID the ban against trucks on the Garden State Parkway would spill 500,000 trucks annually onto other highways in Bergen county.

The problem of handling the trucks is more staggering than the other traffic problems in the county, he said.

Construction on the Garden State part of the extension begins in mid-April. But Tallamy said the exact route of the link in New York is still being considered by municipalities through which it would pass so construction probably won't get under

Uninsured Driver Fund Program Up for Action

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP)—Democratic lawmakers moved in the Legislature today to carry out the Harriman administration's plan for setting up a $20,000,000 fund to compensate persons injured by uninsured drivers.

Republican legislative leaders, firmly opposed to the plan, are expected to channel the Democrats' bills into committee pigeon holes.

It was learned meanwhile that the GOP would unveil next week its own plan for dealing with financially irresponsible drivers. Some Republican leaders favor a compulsory insurance system.

The administration's plan was drawn up by Gov. Harriman's insurance superintendent, Leffert Holtz.

Drivers who did not carry liability insurance would be assessed an extra $30 when they registered their vehicle. This money would be placed in a fund—administered by the State Insurance Department—to be used for compensating persons for damages at the hands of the uninsured.

The fund also would cover hit-and-run accidents, damages by persons driving stolen cars and injuries inflicted by uninsured, out-of-state drivers.

Maximum payments would be $10,000 for death or injury to one person and $20,000 for death or injury to more than one person. Because of a deductible feature, claimants could collect for only those property damages exceeding $200—to a maximum of $1,000 for any one accident.

In order to qualify for payments from the fund, a claimant would have to have a cause of action that would entitle him to damages if he were to sue in court. A claimant would have the option of either settling directly with the insurance department or filing suit against the uninsured driver and collecting his award from the fund.

Payment of an award from the fund would not relieve an uninsured driver of financial responsibility. The state would have the power to impound his car and hold it as security until he reimbursed the fund. His driver's license and vehicle registration also would be lifted until he made restitution.

The proposed new law would take effect next Jan. 1, coinciding with the start of 1957 registration of motor vehicles.

Republican legislative leaders have promised to enact some kind of program this year to cope with the problem of uninsured drivers. But the GOP's high echelon has turned thumbs down on the Holz plan.

Harriman's Republican predecessor, Thomas E. Dewey, tried several times to push a compulsory liability insurance bill through the Legislature. The last time, in 1954, a bill passed the Assembly but failed by a narrow margin in the Senate when some Republican senators teamed with Democrats to vote against it.

Insurance companies opposed the program.

Harriman has indicated that he might sign a compulsory insurance bill if the Holz plan were not enacted.

GM Notes Big Year With High Income, Sales, Pay

Miami, Fla., Feb. 2 (AP)—General Motors Corp. achieved a record-smashing net income of $1,189,000,000, equal to $4.30 per share of common stock and also set new highs in dollars sales, employment and payrolls in 1955.

The figures were disclosed by Harlow H. Curtice, president, at a news conference preceding the opening here Saturday of the GM Motorama of 1956.

Curtice said dollar sales totaled $12,443,000,000; up 27 per cent from 1954 and 24 per cent higher than in the previous record year of 1953. The new net income figure was 48 per cent higher than in 1954 and up 43 per cent from the previous record set in 1950.

HE SAID also that the average number of salaried and hourly-rate employes on GM payrolls throughout the world numbered 624,000, up 47,000 from the 1954 average. Worldwide payrolls, he said, totaled $3,127,000,000, compared with $2,610,000,000 in 1954.

Curtice said the dollar sales record, which compared with a 1954 total of $9,824,000,000 and the previous 1953 record high of $10,028,000,000 was achieved "despite a decline in defense deliveries to seven per cent of the total sales, compared with 14 per cent in the preceding year.

GM'S NET earnings, in dollars in 1954, were reported at $806,000,000. The 1953 record total was $834,044,039.

Curtice told newsmen:

"Provisions for U. S. and foreign income taxes last year are estimated in the area of one billion 350 million dollars, compared with 839 million in 1954. The total 1955 GM tax bill, including provisions for state and local taxes, will be in the area of one billion, 600 million dollars. The comparable 1954 figure was one billion, 35 million dollars.

"MORE THAN two billion, 180 million dollars in payrolls went to 410 thousand hourly rate employes in the United States. In 1954 a total of one billion, 747 million dollars in payrolls were paid to 367 thousand hourly rate employes."

Miami is the second road stop for the huge motorama presentation. Its premiere was held in New York last month. From here it goes to Los Angeles, San Francisco and Boston.

Would Give Food Stamps to Reduce Farm Surplus

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—Sen. Kerr (D-Oklahoma) announced today he and 22 other senators will seek to add a food stamp plan to the social security revision bill now before the Senate Finance Committee.

Kerr, a committee member, said the plan would help to dispose of the huge farm surpluses now plaguing the Agriculture Department, and would improve the diets of some 4,568,000 persons on federal-state public assistance rolls.

IT ALSO would apply to persons receiving unemployment compensation and those aided by purely state welfare programs, but not to those drawing old age and survivors' benefits under the Social Security system.

Figures supplied by Kerr for his own state indicated the proposed benefits could total more than half a billion dollars annually throughout the nation.

THE FOOD stamps would be in addition to cash payments given to assistance recipients. They could take the stamps to a grocery store or other designated outlet and exchange them for commodities listed as surplus by the Agriculture Department.

Kerr said surplus items so distributed probably would include dairy products, bread, peanut products and cotton goods.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), the Finance Committee chairman, told a reporter Kerr will be given a

10-Foot Drifts of Snow Maroon 34 in West School

Albuquerque, Feb. 2 (AP) — Thirty-four teachers, parents and pupils this morning were marooned within the Albuquerque city limits by a wind-whipped snow storm which piled drifts 10 feet high.

After a night trapped in the Hawthorne elementary school, Principal William Nabors said the children and teachers were "holding up well — we're just tired is all."

Although the storm had died this morning, eight to ten foot drifts were still piled around the school and car engines were frozen by the drifts.

Army trucks made it through early today, leaving 50 blankets for the marooned adults and children.

The Hawthorne school, with an enrollment of 530, found itself isolated within a city because of its location. It's in the extreme northeast section of Albuquerque in an area of widely scattered subdivisions, and is near the base of the towering Sandia mountains.

Winds to 62 miles an hour slammed the snow off the mountains and piled it into drifts around the school after many of the children had left. Parents of others battled the storm to retrieve their children. Some were forced to remain.

About 26 other children, cut off by the storm, were taken into neighboring homes for the night. The rest spent the night on the floor.

Nabors said the Red Cross had told him it was trying to get through with food for those still inside the school this morning.

Keeping watch at the school were Principal William Nabors, eight parents, 19 teachers and two custodians and four pupils.

"The neighbors across the street have been wonderfully cooperative," said the principal.

"Between 4 and 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, many parents managed to drive here and take 40 other children home. Then the storm closed in. Soon you couldn't get a car any closer than three blocks away.

"Later in the evening the neighbors across the street and in the next block down began telephoning and offering assistance. They took most of the children left, fed them and bedded them down. They began bringing in hot food, so we were well taken care of."

In a telephone interview, Nabors said snow had drifted up to the windows on the west side of the one-story, 20-room building, and a stiff east wind was blowing snow so hard that "visibility still was zero" early this morning.

Nabors said drifts had piled up "at least six feet deep" around a city bus which had stopped to pick up children on a regular run to their homes. "At least 20 autos are stranded in front of the school," he said.

The gas heating system was holding up well, the principal said, and the children were "comfortably bedded down on cots in the teachers lounge and clinic."

As for the adults, Nabors said they were "just lounging around, playing pingpong, dominos and the piano."

3-Point Course Is Explained

Says Talks Show Unity of Nations

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—British Prime Minister Eden told the Senate today the atomic bomb acts as a "mutual deterrent" against war since the United States, Britain and Russia all have it.

The prime minister said that in these days "uncertainty and fear stalk the world."

"THE MOST POWERFUL nations on earth today possess the most destructive weapons man has ever had at his command," he continued.

"This has created a mutual deterrent. You and we and the Russians each command or will soon command the means to annihilate each other."

Eden addressed the Senate after completing three days of conferences with President Eisenhower.

He was also to speak later before the House.

IN THE SENATE speech, Eden laid down a three-part course which he said will give effect to the "Declaration of Washington" which he signed yesterday with President Eisenhower.

He said these were:

1. Maintain alliances "without apology" and stand ready always "to meet and talk with Communist powers" although keeping always aware "of the methods which will be used against us."

2. Make clear that the United

The two people injured were Mr. and Mrs. D. Wager, who reside in a Dutchess county community, the troopers said, but no definite address was available. They were reported in fair condition at Kingston Hospital.

Coroner Francis J. McCardle was still investigating the accident at press time.

Details about the mishap were unavailable.

Other collisions and traffic tie-ups were reported by state police in the county, who said the roads were slippery due to four inches

Mr. Duffy was elected to the office by one of the largest majorities ever given a candidate for office in the history of the union. He received 2035 votes out of total of 2450 votes cast.

Capt. Joseph O'Hare was returned to office as president and general manager.

Russia's Economic Aid Severely Limited; Reds Far Behind U.S.

Editor's Note—How far is the Soviet Union willing to go in a "foreign aid" program challenging the United States? How charitable can Moscow be expected to be? William L. Ryan anaylzes these and related questions in this article, second in a series of three looking ahead to the 20th Congress of the Communist Party.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

The Soviet Union stuck a tentative toe in the pool of economic competition with the United States. The resultant ripple caused a great deal of excitement. When the Russians weigh their chances of expanding that competition, they will find themselves wanting in many respects.

The smallness of the Soviet program of economic aid to uncommitted countries indicates the Kremlin's cautious approach. Even Soviet promises are not big.

Since World War II the United States has extended aid in loans and grants to foreign countries amounting to about 65 billion dollars. This includes economic, technical, military and United Nations assistance. Soviet loans and grants for economic aid, both to satellites and non-Communist countries, have totalled about two billion. The extent of Soviet military aid to the Communist satellites is not available.

MOST OF this Soviet aid is part of a development since early 1954. Soviet policy shifted then to propaganda seeking to give the impression that the USSR was ready to enter into economic, as well as political, competition with the United States for foreign friendship. Since then Moscow has concluded agreements with non-Communist countries extending a half billion dollars worth of credits.

Most of that remains on paper. The actual outlay in hard cash, including such projects as a steel mill in India and the program in Afghanistan, equals perhaps 150 million dollars. There are promises and hints of much more to come, but the performance likely will depend on many factors, including the political climate of the moment. The spigot can be turned on and off at short notice.

Trade remains more lure than fact. Soviet trade is tiny in relation to world trade. Export is a matter of political decision. Moscow has trade agreements with 58 nations, but the question is whether it can perform in quantity or quality. There are indications Moscow uses the potential as a mask for inability to achieve the fact.

THE SOVIET sally into economic competition seems a weak political attempt to steal American thunder. Nations accustomed to American aid take it for granted. But the Soviet thrust is far from enough to hold any permanent initiative.

In itself, the economic drive could never be decisive in a contest with the United States. The U.S.S.R. for years is likely to remain a net importing nation. At the moment, Moscow seems to be probing, trying to determine how far it can go in this field. It is inexperienced. The United States is miles and years ahead.

Still, the political effects of such sorties on peoples in depressed areas are such that the West must come up with strong answers.

PROPONENTS of long-term American commitments in the field of economic aid contend this would assure uncommitted countries of the continued interest of the United States—and help turn back the Soviet challenge. At the same time an argument can be made out for the contention that one Soviet aim is to stimulate the United States into a competition that will bleed the country progressively.

The Soviet Union does not give anything away. Except for the satellite countries, no grants are involved in its ecoonomic aid. The essence of the program is trade and loans on a business basis, with Moscow expecting full value for everything it offers. But this, too, has attractions for nations which insist they want to keep their self respect. (The Soviet Union asserts it does not attempt to pin nations down to alliances in return for economic assistance.)

People in the areas involved often identify their nations with the USSR in this sense: Russia was a backward country which advanced spectacularly to the role of a leading industrial power. Soviet propaganda tries to identify their dreams with Soviet development, indicating to such people they cannot hope for full independence unless they copy Soviet ways.

In the propaganda war to come, it presumably will be the United States' business to make these people look to the West for the fulfillment of their hopes.

ONE WASHINGTON source who cannot be identified suggests the United States should open a drive to depict the Soviet Union as the most striking success story for American technical aid. He suggests the story be spread all over the East of how the Soviet Union imported impressive numbers of American and other western technical help in the days before World War 2 when the USSR was struggling to its feet. Stalin himself can be quoted on this. Additionally, the 11 billion dollars worth of wartime lend-lease included such items as power stations, railway equipment and materials for industrial development, as well as American technical assistance on a large scale.

"The United States is missing an opportunity in not exploiting this story," the source said, "and in not welcoming gratefully the shift in Soviet tactics to the arena of economic competition. It indicates we had the initiative all along, and that was why they started what they did—in an attempt to steal our show."

Is the U.S.S.R. in a condition to stand up before a determined free world in the economic field? Indications are it will be years before that position is reached.

The Soviet Union has some temporary advantages. For example, it can absorb agricultural surpluses from abroad because of its own shortages, and this is a great help to the nations involved. But the huge agricultural program at home indicates that eventually the U.S.S.R. itself intends to be a surplus nation.

BARRING THE capitalist world crisis they devoutly hope for, the Red leaders themselves seem fully aware they have a long road to travel before they can think in terms of world domination. Soviet industry still must struggle against lopsided development. It still must consider a long-range program for a better balance between production and raw materials; fuel and areas of consumption. Despite talk of the superiority of the Soviet training system, the Russians themselves admit their technical training programs are far out of balance. They admit to poor organization which wastes labor and causes machines to be idle for long periods. They admit poor balance between demand for and supply of industrial specialists. They admit to a still grievous state in agriculture.

All these factors can tend to hamper Soviet freedom of movement in an attempt to compete with the United States.

Again Asks PO Hike

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower prodded Congress again yesterday to raise postal rates, sending it a report that the mail service is now losing $1,000 a minute. The report was from Postmaster General Summerfield, who has been pressing unsuccessfully for [illegible] fate of the administration recommendations in this election year is dubious. Eisenhower urged higher rates aggregating 406½ million dollars yearly, including a hike in first class letter mail from 3 to 4 cents.

ACTING OUT AN EXAMPLE

With storms still swirling around Secretary of State Dulles' head, Red China has come along obligingly to demonstrate that nations outside the United States have something to do with "brink of war" crises.

For a long time we have been meeting in Geneva with a representative of Communist China on the question of renouncing force in any solution of the Formosan situation.

The Reds, of course, want not only the Quemoy-Matsu islands, off their mainland, but Formosa itself. They have in the past given many indications they might resort to arms to achieve this end. The United States in turn has made it plain it will combat any effort to seize Formosa and the adjoining Pescadores, though it has not stated what it would do if the offshore islands were attacked.

Through early 1955 the explosiveness of this situation became more and more apparent. At length, both Red China and the United States agreed to discuss ways of avoiding armed conflict in the Formosa straits.

What we want is Peiping's acceptance of Formosa's right to "individual and collective self-defense." In other words, we will not leave the island bare of Chiang Kai-shek's present defending armies or our own units just on Red China's paper promise to renounce force. For Formosa then would be easy prey to the Communists should they have a quick change of heart.

The Red Chinese will grant us nothing on this score. They fear we mean to deprive them of what they claim is their sovereign right to "liberate" Formosa.

In truth they have no such right. Formosa does not belong to China. Anyone really concerned for the welfare of its native population will favor an arrangement whereby it can be protected against conquest until the moment when the people can decide for themselves what sort of future they want.

Communist China is trying to insist on the "right" to seize Formosa at leisure, without resort to arms. This can hardly be called an equitable solution to a problem that involves the interests of many others.

Our own defensive interests in the Pacific are at stake, but it is not our purpose to make Formosa an American colony. We simply feel warranted in bucking up its defense until the island can take care of itself.

That is a reasonable position that should be understood by anyone concerned with the freedom and independence of peoples around the globe. We speak and act not alone for our own safety, but for a principle.

It is one we have a right to stand on. If doing so puts us in peril, that is not our fault, nor, indeed, Secretary Dulles'. The crisis is made by the Red Chinese, who would commit aggression, with or without arms. The onus is on them.

ARE THEY PACKING AGAIN?

Russia is casting covetous eyes on the rich and growing markets of Latin America.

The Kremlin is dead serious about its economic warfare, as the Nazis used to be in the late 1930's. This is the major front today in the Cold War. We have to be prepared to counteract a variety of possible Soviet moves into the Latin-American region—some phony but some quite real.

There is even a chance that Moscow may decide to dispatch the Happiness Boys—the Messrs. Bulganin and Khrushchev—on a sweeping tour of Latin America. Their experience in South Asia evidently convinced them that the road is worth playing this season.

In fact, they may well be grooming themselves for the trip right now. Latest dispatches from Russia express some concern over the fact Bulganin hasn't been seen much in public.

Maybe he's been sacked. But it's a pretty good bet that he's busy in the Kremlin's Hall of Mirrors—practicing the rhumba and the samba.

BULGANIN'S LOVE LETTER

Ike Eisenhower is to be congratulated for turning down Bulganin's love letter. He might have sent it back unopened. It was a self-serving document to show "Oh! What a good boy am I!" when, as a matter of fact, he has been acting the very bad boy for months, chasing about Asia, making as much trouble for the United States as he and his side-kick, Nikita Khrushchev, can. Then he sends a little note saying that a little necking is good for anyone. Eisenhower has taken the only moral step possible, for what Bulganin proposed was not peace but a thwarting of efforts toward peace. Actually, Bulganin and Khrushchev were trying to make a fool of Eisenhower and he was having none of it.

There is a vulgarity in all this which has not been usual in international relations. A communication between sovereigns used to be an important document, written with solemnity and sent from one to the other, with due regard for the courtesy of timing. The Russians sent the love letter to Eisenhower on the eve of Anthony Eden's visit to Washington, To us, on such an occasion, they offer a two-country treaty, clearly an effort to bring about a divorce between the United States and Great Britain. This has been an item of Russian strategy since Yalta when Roosevelt and Stalin held private talks concerning Winston Churchill—not too pleasant comments on Churchill's character and country.

At the time of Yalta, Great Britain was a very weak country, wholly dependent upon the United States. That is not true today. Great Britain has made a remarkable economic recovery and in the politics of the world, the Commonwealth of Nations, which is the remnant of the British Empire, is a potent force and remains a bulwark of our defense against the Soviet Universal State.

It was clear at Geneva last summer that Khrushchev and Bulganin were playing a very clever game to isolate the United States from its natural allies. It did not work. It might have worked because of the great anxiety of the American people for peace. What we are approaching in the Eisenhower Administration is a doctrine of "Peace with Dignity and Honor." At Yalta and Potsdam, the issue was to discover a way to get along with Soviet Russia which had become difficult since 1943 (Teheran). Subsequently, we pursued a policy of appeasement up to the moment of the Berlin Airlift (1948). Then came an era of confusion, embittered by the Korean and the Indochinese Wars, complicated by the death of Stalin and the development of neutralism in Europe and Asia and the machinations of Nehru who sought to build a great power in the Indian Ocean to equal the power built by Stalin in Europe and Mao Tze-tung in China.

The rejection of Bulganin's love letter and the language Eisenhower used adds the element of dignity to a proceeding that had become vulgar and cheap. And dignity for a nation is important. It is a concomitant which raises not only the morale of a nation but its morals. It elevates a people to a proper appraisal of its own worth. For too many years, we have permitted ourselves to be humiliated by the propaganda, even in our own country, of foreign powers, not only by Soviet Russia, but by many others, some of them our allies. The time has come to reject not humility but masochism, an imposed masochism which for some becomes a source of pride.

If the new tone of Eisenhower's reply to Bulganin persists, we may even begin to teach American history in all our schools as the continuing story of a really great people who conquered a huge continent by hard work and competent thought and love of country. We might put patriotism back in our text-books and drive out those horrible brochures designed to popularize "an ally" Soviet Russia, which did so much to corrupt a generation of our children. For if national dignity is restored, patriotism must be restored. We too can love Mother Earth—our mother earth, although not being essentially pagan, our love for country is more likely to pour upward toward the God in whom we have always trusted.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

LOW BACKACHE IN INDUSTRY

A condition almost as common as headache, and with almost as many causes, is low backache. There are so many different causes that sometimes physicians have found it more beneficial to the patient to go ahead and treat the condition without worrying too much about the cause. Admittedly, this is not the scientific manner but if it obtains results, it is surely justified. An example of this type of treatment is outlined in an article in the British Medlical Journal in which a review is made of 1,163 cases of low backache. Drs. R. N. Wilson and S. Wilson report as follows:

Five years of experience at an ironworks with 1,163 men employed in heavy industry showed that suffering and absenteeism caused by low back pain can be greatly reduced if all cases, even trivial ones, are treated promptly by relaxation and manipulation. The patients' complaints vary from a dull low backache to acute stabbing pains in the back and/or buttock, groin, thigh, leg and foot. Most patients are able to walk into the physiotherapy department but a few are treated as stretcher cases by first-aid workers before being sent in.

The routine treatment is begun by placing the patient in the prone (face down) position with a thin pillow under the hips and another at the head. This should give comfort even in the most acute attack. Infra-red (radiant heat) treatment is administered for 20 or 30 minutes and the patient is encouraged to relax and to sleep if he wishes. Massage is then applied, beginning with a light stroking movement and gradually deepening into kneading. Full relaxation soon follows and manipulation can then easily be performed, if necessary, without anesthesia or sedation (quieting drugs).

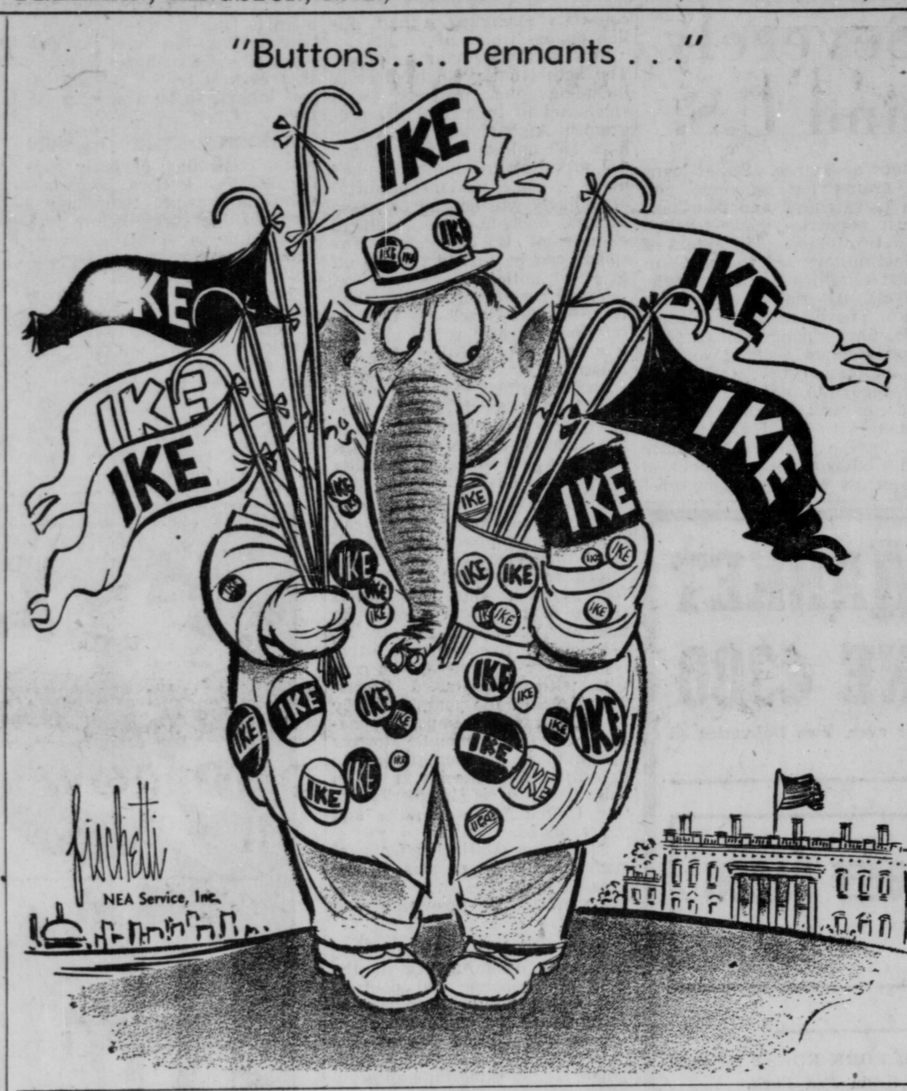

The patient is advised concerning posture, especially when sitting, and the avoidance of incorrect lifting and of attempting to touch his toes. He is supplied with six codeine tablets, to be taken two at a time during the next 24 hours, and he is encouraged to report again the next day if pain returns. This routine is most successful in acute attacks within 12 hours of onset. In cases of injury to muscles sometimes found in accidents, strapping is used as well as heat and massage chiefly to give a feeling of support and to remind the patinet to treat his back with care. No pressure is brought on the men to remain at work but most of them are advised to do so. It is interesting to note that cold weather increases the pain not only of chronic backache but also the number of accidental cases. Furthermore, the first hour at work on a cold wet morning is often the time when acute attacks occur.

"The loss to both employer and worker when an experienced man has to be permanently transferred to light work on account of backache is so great that every effort should be made to restore him to normal health as quickly as possible. The success of the method described, which represents an attempt by a general practitioner and a physiotherapist to deal with the problem of backache, is shown by the fact that in 1954 only 11 cases of back injury resulting in an absence from work of more than three days were reported, out of a working population of 5,000."

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—The other morning as I was going to work—a bit late, for the first time that day—my eye was caught by my daughter.

She was lying flat on the floor working over her post-breakfast bottle. She was staring at our television screen showing a grown-up-but-kiddie-looking fellow who himself was sucking at an imitation milk bottle whose theoretical contents were visibly lowered as he said something like this:

"All right, kiddies, it's milk time. Let's go now. Not too fast, but—"

WELL, I SIMPLY stood there fascinated. I was swept by awe and fear of the art of advertising. I wondered how soon my daughter, having been sold on the virtues of milk, would start worrying about deodorants.

Somehow, clover sweet as she is at 2½ years (except for her feet), I hugged the idea that Tracy Ann, my daughter, would learn femininity from her mother, my wife. I don't want my child to learn delicacy from an ad man's fear pitch.

What is the impact of television on the average family? What is right and what is wrong with television up till now?

MY DAUGHTER LIKES to identify Pinky Lee, Lassie, Rin-Tin-Tin, The Lone Ranger and other staple childhood fodder (she likes Ollie the Dragon but is suspicious of Howdy Doody), then usually walks away. Having survived the shock of recognition, she returns to her old friends, her toys.

Ancient cartoons with dubbed-in voices bore her within 30 seconds, and she walks away. (She also will do this to canned meat if it is put on her plate.) She has an unerring appetite for freshness, and likes "Captain Kangaroo" because it is alive.

BOTH HER FATHER and mother also will refuse to follow canned family situation comedies because they are unreal and tiresome, and because canned laughter doesn't make them feel very jolly. Most of their friends who can read without moving their lips feel the same way.

Tracy Ann (our daughter) and her parents enjoy — sometimes more than the show they carry—bright, tuneful illustrated commercials. We hum 'em in our house.

A live show stirs us more than a filmed show, and we'll rove the dial to get one that is alive. There are exceptions—but they only prove the rule.

ONE OF THE things that destroys realism most is to have an artist perform a role, then step out of character and immediately make a sales pitch.

This form of commercialism reduces the magic and illusion and force of art. Edward Murrow and John Daly are among the pioneers who have had the courage and common sense to realize this. They have done their sponsors a favor by abstaining from it.

THE DUTY of the artist in television today is to gain an audience. To ask him to go on from there is to demean both himself and the product he is required to plug. Both are needlessly cheapened.

Commercialism is necessary in television, but not in that manner. It will die out as more artists made more money, can afford to be more independent, and the realization grows that there are better ways to put a message across.

Charleston, W. Va. (AP) — The Charleston Daily Mail dispensing bag was hanging on a utility pole, just below a fire alarm box. An unidentified woman who wanted to buy a newspaper assumed the lever on the box made a paper pop out of the bag. Battalion Chief Claude Saunders of the fire department said she was perhaps the most frightened woman in Charleston when three fire companies with sirens screaming rolled to a stop beside the fire alarm.

Supervisors Pick Denning Man as Association Head

Herbert George, former supervisor of the town of Denning, was elected president of the Ulster County Supervisors Association Tuesday night to succeed former county clerk Harry D. Sutton of Plattekill. Mr. George served last year as vice-president.

Henry Battenfeld of Hurley was elected vice president and Raymond Howe deputy clerk of the board of supervisors was re-elected treasurer. Robert A. Snyder, clerk of the board, remains secretary by reason of his office.

COUNTY TREASURER Albert N. Cook of Kingtson, was named temporary chairman on motion of Eber Coy, seconded by Charles Relyea.

The name of George was placed in nomination by Supervisor John Gaffney of Lloyd and seconded by Supervisor Burton C. Marshall of Rochester. Charles Relyea placed the name of Henry Battenfeld before the meeting, and the name of Raymond Howe as treasurer was presented by County Commissioner of Jurors Edwin Ashby.

Following the election of Herbert George as president, Temporary Chairman Cook named John Gaffney and Claude Bell as a committee to escort the new president to the rostrum. George who has been "swept" into office in his home town was "carried" into office by the escorting committee who bodily picked up George and deposited him in the chair.

AFTER THANKING the members for the honor, George named the following committee to have charge of arrangements for the annual supervisors dinner which will be held later: Harry D. Sutton, Henry Battenfeld, Jesse McHugh, John Gaffney, Edwin Ashby, Burton C. Marshall, Cluett Schantz, Charles Relyea, Roy C. Denniston, Donald A. Sprague and Peter Williams.

On motion of Edwin Ashby the members stood in silence for a moment in tribute to those members who had died during the past year.

U.S. Is Big Winner From Business Gains

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—Uncle Sam is striking gold these days in the canyons of New York—and it's a much richer vein than almost anyone expected even just a few weeks ago.

In their New York counting houses the nation's big corporations are totting up their gross profits for 1955. In numerous cases the results astound even those who already knew 1955 was a remarkable year.

WITH THE FEDERAL income tax rate on corporations rising as high as 52 per cent, the U. S. Treasury's share of these gross profits is impressive—and the total grows with each day's batch of corporate earnings reports.

U. S. Steel has just announced it has set aside 366 million dollars to pay Uncle Sam.

The other day Jersey Standard Oil estimated its net income after taxes would be a record 717 million dollars, a gain of 22.5 per cent over its 1954 take. A roughly similar sum will be on hand for the federal tax collector.

GENERAL MOTORS, yet to report, is widely expected to cross the one billion dollar net profit mark—the first such figure ever reported by an American corporation. Its tax contribution to Washington should be close to one billion dollars.

Just these three corporations alone, therefore, will be handing Uncle Sam around two billion dollars in tax money.

That's more than the President's budget allots for spending on atomic energy. It's more than he asks for guided missiles, more than he asks for building dams and developing natural reources.

BIG STEEL reports its earnings after taxes were a record 370 million dollars. This is by far the largest profit in the steel industry, as is to be expected from a company that does nearly one-third of the business.

But nine other steel companies—two of them among the "top ten"—report a better percentage of gain over 1954.

U. S. Steel's net profits increased 89 per cent over the 1954 figure. But nine others report their profits more than doubled during the year.

THE 21 IRON and steel companies that have reported their 1955 results so far have a combined net profit of $990,309,426, an increase of 71 per cent over the $579,141,957 the same 21 reported on their 1954 operations.

Their combined federal tax payments can be roughly estimated at 990 million dollars.

Steel will show one of the best increases of any industry: 1. Because it made and sold a record amount of steel last year; 2. Because its 1955 operations are being compared with 1954, a year in which steel was among the industries suffering from a recession.

THE GOOD NEWS for the U. S. Treasury doesn't stop with the annual reports that American corporations are now issuing in increasing numbers.

There is every sign that the profitable times are continuing in the early months of 1956.

Roger M. Blough, U. S. Steel chairman, thinks the current quarter may be the best three months the steel industry has ever had. Although he expects the present pace to slacken later in the year, Blough thinks 1956 will turn out to be one of the top years for steel.

OTHER STEEL leaders have reported their own companies have orders in sight that should keep them humming at least until fall.

The cutback in auto production hasn't made a dent in the total demand for steel yet—a demand that calls for more steel than the industry has present capacity to meet quickly.

Prospects this week that a federal highway aid bill will pass Congress will add more demand for the construction products of the steel industry.

And the higher the sales volume, the greater the tax take usually is.

He Pays the Freight

Wheeling, W. Va. (AP)—When Dog Warden William Custer found a lost dog, he read in a Wheeling Intelligencer want ad that it had been lost by a man from Garnet, Kan. Custer, at his own expense, telegraphed the Kansan he was shipping the dog and took it to the express office in a $20 wooden shipping crate. The other day, Custer got a call that his crate had been returned so he went to pick it up. The crate had been shipped collect and Custer had to pay shipping charges out of his own pocket.

The favorite American story always has the "rags to riches" theme. With small investments, coupled with great profits classified ads have become the favorite story of thousands. Phone 5000 today.

City Gets About Four-Inch Snow; Mishaps Reported

Snow-removal and safety equipment was put in force today in both city and county to clear streets and roads of the season's heaviest fall of snow, to date.

Traffic was slowed on about all routes starting in the early morning and several mishaps were reported in the county.

DEPTH OF THE SNOW, by noon, ranged from four to seven inches, with the greater depths reported in the mountain areas. It was generally about four inches in Kingston and vicinity. Snow continued falling in the afternoon.

Sanding crews started out in the county at about 6 a. m., and the first went out in the city at about 5 a. m. Sanding continued through the morning and the county highway department sent out plows at 10:30 a. m.

The local public works department was preparing to do some plowing this afternoon and was rigging up to go out in force throughout the city early tonight.

UP UNTIL TODAY'S storm, the season had experienced slightly more than 12 inches of snow, and about half of this fell in January. December had only 3½ inches, and November 2½ inches.

Today's storm followed a comparatively mild January, which had a cold start, but got out of character after the first two days. The temperature Jan. 1 was five above zero, and that on Jan. 2 was zero. The third lowest temperature in the month was the 12 above on the 26th.

December had two sub-zero days. It was two degrees below zero on the 21st and the 23rd by records of the city engineer's office.

Congress Hears More Powerful 'A' Arm Planned

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—Congress has received a hint that a hydrogen bomb with 2,500 times the power of the atomic weapon that blasted Hiroshima may be at least in the planning stage.

Confirmation that something is going on in that field came yesterday from Dr. A. G. Hill, professor at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and scientific director of the weapons evaluation group of the joint chiefs of staff.

THE ATOMIC scientist was a witness before a House government operations subcommittee in a hearing aimed at strengthening civil defense.

Chairman Holifield (D.-Calif.) commented that he believed a study in which Hill participated had mentioned a hydrogen bomb that would "go up as high as 50 megaton."

Hill nodded agreement.

The matter was dropped without any elaboration to indicate whether such a weapon has gone beyond the stage of theory.

Electrical Connection Is Blamed for Fire

Baltimore, Feb. 2 (AP)—Investigators say the Arundel Park fire, which took the lives of 10 women last Sunday and injured about 200 other persons, probably was caused by a defective electrical connection.

An Arundel county police chief Wilbur C. Wade said a small blaze was first discovered licking at the eaves of the wooden-roofed building in which the Holy Name Society of St. Rose of Lima Church was holding an oyster roast. About 1,200 were attending the affair just south of the city line.

Wade said a man was stopped from training a garden hose on the blaze by another, who shouted, "don't do that, there's an open electrical connection up there." Wade explained that the roof was wet from a downpour and the unnamed man might have been electrocuted had he squirted the water on the blaze.

Groundhog Legend Discredited by Bureau

Chicago, Feb. 2 (AP)—The U. S. Weather Bureau today issued its annual statement discrediting the groundhog as a competent forecaster.

But the official forecasters were a bit more lenient in their attitude toward other weather proverbs, saying:

"The trouble with weather proverbs is not so much that they're all wrong but that they're not all right for all times in all places."

Which, of course, is just about what some folks say about the Weather Bureau.

The inapplicability of some weather sayings to our land is obvious, says the bureau, because many of the most popular ones originated thousands of years ago in North Africa and, later, in Europe.

Locality is of utmost importance in considering weather proverbs, it seems.

John Is Certain To Face Treason Trial on Secrets

Bonn, Germany, Feb. 2 (AP)—Now is virtually certain that West Germany's turncoat former intelligence chief, Otto John, will be tried for treason, responsible German officials said today.

They reached that conclusion after the federal supreme court yesterday refused John bail and said "there is strong suspicion" that he "betrayed state secrets" while in East Germany.

IT MAY BE MONTHS, however, before the strange cloak-and-dagger story reaches its final dramatic chapter in a courtroom.

John is being held without bail during the lengthy investigation because the court said it is believed he planned to make yet another flight to another western country.

This was presumed to be England, where he lived for about five years. His wife, Lucie, had a home in London and acquired British citizenship. John, however, remained German.

John has made three dramatic flights already.

A two-car accident happened a mile north of West Camp where a car owned and operated by Dennis John Travers, 22, of 56 DeMott avenue, Clifton, N. J., skidded at the railroad underpass as it was traveling south and collided head-on with the car of Robert M. Schoonmaker, 29, of RD 1, Box 232, Saugerties.

Both cars were considerably damaged but there were no injuries reported to Trooper Rhodes who investigated. In the Schoonmaker car was Martin Hall, 36, of Malden.

Shortly after the West Camp accident another was reported on Lucas avenue extension, where a car overturned, and later two more accidents were reported on Route 9W north of Kingston.

The mother of the dead girl, Mrs. Gertrude Silver, who pleaded no defense to a charge of being an accessory, was given a suspended sentence and freed.

Director Joseph F. Finnegan, who called negotiators here yesterday from Pittsburgh, said he would keep the talks going as long as it appeared some good was being accomplished.

Nazareth in Israel has had its first modern water supply only a short time.

French Welcome Talk Proposal On Middle East

Paris, Feb. 2 (AP)—French officials today welcomed a U. S.-British proposal for western Big Three talks on the troubled Middle Eastern situation.

President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Eden, in a joint communique issued yesterday at the end of three-day talks in Washington, said the invitation to the French had been extended under the May 25, 1950, three-power declaration on Palestine. The Big Three agreed at that time to take action inside and outside the UN if either Arabs or Israelis threatened to use force to settle their dispute.

FRENCH OFFICIALS said France has "immense" cultural interests and a "very important" economic state in the Middle East.

Eisenhower and Eden issued a statement and a joint declaration of policies covering situations in Europe, the Middle East and Asia. They also dealt with atomic energy matters. Official reaction, all the way from France and West Germany to Japan and Nationalist China, was generally favorable to specific views set forth by the President and prime minister.

In Bonn, an official spokesman for the West German government called the Eisenhower-Eden communique a "declaration of fundamental and worldwide significance." He added that West Germany was particularly gratified by reaffirmation of U. S. and British support for German reunification, a joint warning that any attack on Communist-surrounded Berlin would be an attack on the western powers, and the continued recognition of Bonn as the only legitimate German government.

3-Point Course

States and Britain share "unity of purpose" wherever there is a danger of conflict. He cited the Arab-Israeli dispute as an instance.

3. Continue giving economic help to friends of the west first "but not forgetting others." Above all, avoid "trying to cap every offer" of economic aid made by the Soviet bloc.

EDEN SAID his conference, with Eisenhower, while not reaching agreement "at every point," nevertheless showed "agreement between us . . . wide and true."

"Never has the identity of our common purpose been so plain," he said.

In speaking of nuclear weapons as a mutual deterrent, Eden said new weapons like guided missiles and rockets unleash "new powers of destruction."

"IS THE WORLD then in a few years to shoot itself to destruction at long range?" he asked. "You and we alone cannot give the answers to these questions."

But he said the United States and Britain can work together to make sure aggressive forces are not "dazzled" by dreams of easy conquest. This can never be in the nuclear age, he said, because "oblivion confronts aggressor and victim alike."

EDEN SAID Soviet expansion "now feels its way south and probes in other lands."

"It is not so much military containment as political enlightenment which is the need of the day," Eden said.

Combine White Asparagus With Blanched Almonds

DRENCH WHITE ASPARAGUS with almond butter sauce for an unforgettable treat to be served alongside seafoods.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Some of our family prefer canned white asparagus to the fresh.

So we compromise—have both kinds, but, of course, not at the same time.

We just received a case of California white asparagus. Here are two ways we serve it.

Asparagus Amandine
(Makes 6 servings)

One-half cup butter or margarine, melted, ¼ cup chopped blanched almonds, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, ¼ teaspoon monosodium glutamate, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 No. 300 cans California white asparagus, salt and pepper.

Combine butter or margarine, almonds, parsley, monosodium glutamate and lemon juice. Cook over low heat 10 minutes. Meanwhile, heat asparagus separately to serving temperature. Drain. Place on hot platter and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Pour almond sauce over it.

Asparagus Cheese Bake
(Makes 4 servings)

Four slices toast, cut in half, 1 No. 300 can California white asparagus, drained, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons all-purpose flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 cup milk, ½ cup fine dry bread crumbs, 1 cup grated processed Cheddar cheese (about ¼ pound).

Arrange toast in lightly greased 9x9x2-inch baking dish top; with asparagus. Melt butter or margarine; add flour, salt and pepper and blend. Gradually add milk and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Pour over asparagus. Combine bread crumbs and cheese and sprinkle over asparagus. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes, or until crumbs are browned.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Cream of potato soup with croutons in cups, sliced turkey or chicken, hot asparagus with almond butter, heated rolls, butter or margarine, chocolate pie, coffee, team, milk.

School Officials Attend Meeting On Consolidation

School representatives and officials from the several school districts surrounding Kingston coming under the proposed Kingston Area Consolidation plan, met in a two-day session at Albany this week to discuss the matter and make a study of the proposal. The sessions were held with the Bureau of Rural Administrative Services of the State Department of Education.

Included in the group which met with the state officials to study the proposed plan and discuss the feasibility of the proposition were District Superintendents Reginald Bennett and Clarence Johnson; Earl F. Soper, superintendent of the Kingston schools; Robert Macdonald, executive secretary of the Kingston Board of Education; Robert Herzog, president of the board of education and on Monday, Mrs. Bertha Connelly also attended the session. From the Kingston school system was Clifford Miller, principal of the high school; Stephen Hyatt of the MJM school and representatives of the various suburban school districts.

THERE WAS general discussion on the feasibility of formation of a Kingtson Area School District and the discussion was developed under a four point program involving instructional problems, transportation, buildings and finance. The information developed through this program will be brought together and a report based on these facts and also the result of proposed legislation, will then be prepared and submitted to each of the school districts involved.

After a study of the report the Board of Education may either approve the recommendations or reject the proposition. The rural areas affected may as a group either approve or reject the plan.

Following completion of the report and an opportunity to study it, a meeting will be held in Kingston for further discussion of the plan.

A REGULAR meeting of the Kingston board of education will be held Thursday evening. At this meeting a committee may be named to begin a study to ascertain what building program may be necessary should the consolidation plan be approved. Additional facilities for junior high school students would be one of the major problems to be considered by the local board of education, and a study of this problem probably will have to be made. Should the consolidation movement not meet with approval, students from the seventh through the twelfth grade will continue to come to Kingston as now.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Pork gives way to beef this weekend as the outstanding buy in the meat department.

You'll find choice cuts of beef at moderate prices almost everywhere (one eastern chain is featuring sirloin steak at 59 cents a pound and prime ribs of beef at 47 to 55 cents). A midwest chain has trimmed six cents a pound from prices of its sirloin steaks and rib roasts; other supermarkets are promoting various cuts of beef as weekend specials in Boston, Detroit, Chicago and New York.

PORK, IN CONTRAST, is sharply higher this week—gains range up to 10 cents a pound in some cities — and market analysts say prices will go higher still.

"Three weeks ago we were buying pork loins at 29½ cents a pound," says a spokesman for one major chain. "Now we're paying 43 cents wholesale."

The upturn in pork prices is looked upon as pretty much of a seasonable affair.

"It just had to go up," one meat specialist asserts. "It could not go any lower."

ANOTHER POPULAR bargain item that's heading higher this week is chicken. Frying chickens are up six cents a pound in some midwestern cities and up about four cents a pound on the west coast. They're still low enough, however, to rate as a fairly good buy for thrifty eating. Roast turkey is on the weekend special list in some parts of the country. Egg prices are down a little. Seafood is abundant and cheap.

FLORIDA CITRUS fruits are still among the best buys on produce counters this week, with oranges and seedless grapefruit leading the parade. Tangerines, apples and grapes are also attractively priced. The season's first plums, peaches and nectarines from South America are beginning to reach U. S. markets, and prices are described as "moderate" by food specialists of U. S. Department of Agriculture. You're likely to find good buys in pineapples imported from Cuba.

TAGGED AS outstanding buys in vegetables are many of the old favorites: Iceberg lettuce, potatoes, onions, turnips and greens (including broccoli, collards and kale). Corn, Pascal celery; cabbage and sweet potatoes are moderately priced, as are red beets from Texas. California carrots are down in price this week but not enough to constitute a bargain.

You may find yourself paying slightly higher prices for potatoes in the near future. The goverment has been buying up surplus stocks; Uncle Sam's spud purchases between September and mid-January ran to about 9½ million bushels. And cold weather in the deep south has damaged early plantings.

Opening lead—♦ J

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When an opening bid of one in a suit is passed by the responder, it is usually sound for the fourth player to reopen the bidding on suspicion. Perhaps the hand belongs to his side, or perhaps he can drive the opening bidder too high.

The situation is quite different, however, when the opening bid is one no-trump rather than one of a suit. The opening bid of one no-trump guarantees 16 to 18 points, which is quite a bit more than a minimum of one in a suit. Then again, the responder's pass doesn't necessarily indicate a completely worthless hand.

In today's hand, North had six points in high cards and a fair five-card suit. North would not have passed if South had opened with one in a suit; but it was quite proper for North to pass South's opening bid of one no-trump. North knew that the combined count was only 22 to 24 points, which is seldom enough for game.

It would have been correct for East to reopen the bidding if South had opened with one club or one diamond and North had passed. But when South opened with one no-trump, East should have passed.

The double turned out badly. South guessed the clubs correctly, winning five clubs, two diamonds, a spade, and a heart. He wound up with 450 points above the line and 80 below. If East had passed, South would have scored only 60 points above the line and 40 below.

Pigeons Are Ousted

Belleville, Ill. (AP)—John Biebel is recognized as an authority on the job of eliminating pigeons from roofs. He is working on a contract to chase the pigeons from the roof of the local Courthouse at the cost of $1,100. The process involves spreading a gummy substance on places used as roosts. He says starlings hate the sticky stuff too. The goo gets on their feet and the birds have a tough time getting around. But the gelatin-like stuff spread with grease guns, does not kill the birds.

The mantelpiece originally was a shelf over the fireplace, with pegs attached to it on which wet mantles, or other articles of clothing, were hung to dry.

Warns of Red Missile

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP)—Sen. Jackson, (D.-Wash.) cautioned today of "danger that the Soviets may fire a 1,500-mile ballistic missile before the end of this year."

The Washington state Democrat said the balance of world military power would shift against the West if the Soviet Union should win the "critical race" for development of such an intermediate range missile—and after that, an intercontinental missile with a 5,000-mile range and the capability of carrying atomic destruction to the United States.

Sect of 'True Communists' Grows in Western Canada

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 2 (AP)—A religious sect of "true Communists" is prospering in western Canada, and arousing considerable ire from some of their neighbors.

The Hutterite Sect has 42 colonies in Alberta, 22 in Manitoba and 6 in Saskatchewan and is expanding constantly.

THE HUTTERITES have a high birth rate and continually need to establish new communities. Their prosperity allows them to offer high prices for land. Some of their Manitoba neighbors say this expansion must halt.

Hutterites' lives are governed by a rigid religious and social system.

"We would rather be burned at the stake than go out and live the kind of life being lived in the world today," says the Rev. John Wurz, 77, leader of the sect's 10,000 members.

THE SECT sprang from the Anabaptist movement in the 16th century and was founded by Jacob Hutter, (Sic) who was burned at the stake in 1536 at Innsbruck, Austria, for his religious beliefs and teaching. The Hutterite way of life has kept them at odds with the rest of the world ever since. About 75 years ago, 400 Hutterites left Russia to settle in the Dakotas. They refused to bear arms for the United States in World War 1 and resentment there caused many to move into Canada, where most Hutterites live today.

Colonies average 180 persons. Every able bodied man must work. The bosses are picked by election. Women work in the community kitchens, laundries, dairies and sewing rooms until they are 50. Men work as long as they are able. Profits are held communally by the community.

The Hutterites wear black—the men denim jackets and overalls and the women ankle-length dresses. They eat in community dining rooms and live in apartments in barracklike buildings. The men never shave after marrying. The church with its daily services is the center of Hutterite life.

SECT MEMBERS refuse to vote in local and national elections. Only in the past 20 years have they obeyed laws requiring children to attend school and employed outside teachers for the state-prescribed curriculum. To this is added several more hours of instruction in religion and Hutterite history. German is the common tongue.

A few years ago Hutterites in Canada abandoned their primitive farming methods and now their colonies are among the best-equipped, large-scale farming operations in the country. The profits are commensurate.

When opponents call his people Communists, the Rev. Mr. Wurz says they are right, but "we have the spiritual idea in our organization. The Bolsheviks are tyrants who do not believe in Almighty God and who want the world for themselves." He calls his people "the only true Communists in the world."

The union of municipalities has asked the provincial government for legislation prohibiting the spread of Hutterite colonies in Manitoba.

WHEN THE Alberta government passed such legislation the Hutterites began moving into Saskatchewan. An alternative proposal would require new colonies to be at least 40 miles from any now existing of limited size.

Manitoba Premier Duoglas Campbell and several members of his cabinet are opposed to such laws. One Hutterite critic, J. P. Bend, predicts that at its present rate of expansion the sect will own all farm land in Manitoba by 2050.

SWING-SHIFT BIBLE CLASSES—Aircraft builders on the swing shift at Lockheed's Marietta, Ga., plant have added a new course to their evening meal—the scriptures. The Bible class is conducted by Marshall Carroll, left, a 35-year-old Fair Oaks, Ga., minister by day and aircraft worker by night. The supper-box Bible study group, composed mostly of working church officers and Sunday school teachers, meets every Thursday evening, munching sandwiches, to study the following Sunday's Bible lesson. Classes are inter-denominational.

At the Clintondale Methodist Church, associate parish of Modena, Howard Simpson and Andrew Montrola were reelected for a three-year term; William Barrett, a former trustee now living in Poughkeepsie, was named honorary trustee and two new ones appointed. Donald Williamson and Charles Wickham.

Mrs. Simon DuBois is convalescing from an operation recently at the Cornwall Hospital.

Mrs. William Decker and Mrs. Merrill E. Small Sr., were recent visitors at the home of Mrs. Florence Roosa and daughter Joan, at Hurley.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth a Paltridge and sons Kenny and Billy, of Plattekill, visited relatives in town Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Wager Sr., visited the latter's uncle, Charles Tuthill, a patient at St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, on Tuesday evening. Mr. Tuthill, a former accoutant at Lake Mohonk, and Mrs. Tuthill were staying at the Palatine Hotel Newburgh.

Wolf Trouble

Idabel, Okla. (AP)—Courthouse workers are hoping that they can cut red tape and get a new system for paying the $2.50 bounty for wolf pelts. Before the money can be paid, it is necessary for each of the three county commissioners and the game ranger to view the pelt and sign the form. It takes time—and the pelts begin to smell more like skunk than wolf.

State Mails Out Income Forms

Albany, Feb. 2 — The State Tax Commission has started 160 tons of state income tax blanks on their way through the mails to 5,000,000 individuals.

They're due back in Albany, with tax payments, on or before Monday, April 16.

George M. Bragalini, president of the State Tax Commission, said he believed the present operation on 1955 state income tax returns was a record mailing for the state.

DISTRIBUTION of the forms puts such a strain on postal facilities here that it has to be spaced over a period of about one week. Third class mail is used.

The tax blanks fill 4,566 mail sacks. They include sets of long Form IT-201, addressed to 3,172,217 individuals; short Form IT-200, addressed to 1,547,548, and hundreds of thousands of additional blanks for unincorporated businesses, partnerships, fiduciaries and non-residents.

Usually an individual is sent the same type of form he filed the previous year. But failure to receive a tax form in the mail does not relieve the taxpayer of the obligation for filing. Blanks are obtainable at all state tax offices and many banks.

STATE INCOME tax returns for 1955 must be filed by single persons with net income of $1,000 or more last year and married couples with joint net income of $2,500 or more.

The mass mailings starting Monday represent months of preparation. New forms were printed last summer. Forms were addressed by machine in the Income Tax Bureau. In September, the Tax Department's mechanical section started the task of inserting the materials in envelopes and sealing them. Even though machines are used for most operations, the job takes five months and requires overtime night work during the closing weeks.

The state income tax is the state's biggest single revenue-producer. Receipts from the tax currently run at a rate of more than $400 million a year. Most of this goes into the state's general fund. Part goes into the War Bonus and Mental Health Bond Account for retirement of World War 2 veterans bonus bonds and bonds for construction of mental hospital facilities.

Effected Reforms

Until the philanthropist, Elizabeth Fray, effected reforms at Newgate in 1817, men and women prisoners all over the world commonly were jailed together, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Sees Reply to Peiping

Taipei, Feb. 2 (AP) — Chinese Nationalist officials today interpreted the joint pledge by President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Eden to check Communist aggression in the Far East as a reply to Peiping's newest threat to take Formosa. Official Chinese circles here appeared fairly well satisfied by the statement issued last night by the two western leaders. They said the promise to deter Communist aggression could be read by Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai as a reply to his threat to seize the Nationalist island stronghold "by war if necessary."

Fist Fight Ruled Out as Fatal, Mullins Cleared

Lewiston, Maine, Feb. 2 (AP)—Patrick W. Mullins, 18, of Houston, Tex., has been cleared of blame in the death of a 19-year-old navy buddy from Owego, N. Y.

Municipal Court Judge Harris M. Isaacson said yesterday there was insufficient evidence for a charge of manslaughter and discharged Mullins.

Mullins was held after admitting he had a fist fight last Saturday night with Roy E. Tobey. Tobey's body was found on the lawn of the Lewiston post office.

Police presented evidence yesterday to show that Tobey was killed by a 24-foot fall from the roof of the post office shortly after the fight with Mullins.

Dr. Robert Wakefield, a pathologist, testified that Tobey's fatal injury—a frontal skull fracture and brain damage—could not have been inflicted by a human fist.

Police Lt. James Harkins presented statements from several witnesses that a young sailor, bleeding around the face, had gone into the postoffice. Stains, apparently from blood, were found also by police on a window through which Tobey apparently gained access to the roof.

Both sailors were assigned to the naval air station in Brunswick.

RPI Student Rescued From Giant Cavern

McMinnville, Tenn., Feb. 2 (AP)—A college student from New York was brought out of Higgenbotham Cave early today after lying on his back in a pit of the giant cavern for eight hours.

Martin Wilner, 21, of New York city, was treated at a clinic here for shock, face lacerations and a broken rib.

He was moved from the isolated cave—believed the fourth largest in the world—by members of the McMinnville rescue squad.

Wilner and 11 other students from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at Troy, N. Y., had been exploring the cave between semesters.

He and two other members of the party, George Lewis, 22, of Boston, and Richard Bunker, 21, of Troy, were together at the time of the accident. Lewis said Wilner was holding a light over the edge of a pit when he slipped and fell 25 feet, landing on his back in deep mud.

Shokan

Shokan, Feb. 1 — Visiting in the village Sunday following a few hours of skiing at Belleayre was Dorothy C. Lindberg of New Hope, Pa.

Foundations for three more buildings on the Fredenholm-Yurkalek housing development along the south side of Route 28 have been built this winter. Contractor Walter Ivanhoff now has the Fredenholm dwelling along the Ridge road nearing completion.

A feature of the current March of Dimes drive for funds in Olive will be the benefit talent show and dance scheduled for the evening of February 4 in the Olive Bridge fire house. There will be a free will offering at this affair.

The maiden name of Mrs. O. N. Beldin, Michigan woman who was the subject of a birthday sketch here recently, was Adaline Rogers, not Jones.

Louise Armstrong, daughter of Louis Thiel, has moved from New Jersey to Kingston according to Mr. Thiel who in former years was accustomed to make winter visits at his daughter's home in Clinton.

The column's local traffic observer reports that the number of cars passing through Shokan to and from the mountain ski trails weekend before last was the "largest ever." Extension of the Thruway to Yonkers is said to have a lot to do with this record influx of ski enthusiasts.

Oscar Schlarin, a resident of the east end of the village the past five years, has been elected a deacon of the Kingston Seventh Day Adventist Church.

So They Say..

U. S. Vaccination Plan Is Likely To Be Extended

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—The prospect of more Salk polio vaccine has prompted the House Commerce Committee to consider possible eventual broadening of the government-aided inoculation program to include some groups above age 20.

The committee view was outlined in a report accompanying its bill to extend from Feb. 15 until June 30, 1957, the present program of federal aid for vaccinating persons up to age 20 and pregnant women.

The bill was cleared yesterday for a House vote. Both the House and the Senate are expected to approve the measure.

The House committee reported a new estimate from Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele that by the end of this year there will be more than enough vaccine on hand for the 65 million children and women coming under the present program.

This is a half-year ahead of the date indicated by Scheele in his testimony to the committee last week.

In its report, the committee recommended no change in the present 20-year age limit and noted that, throughout the country as a whole, paralytic polio strikes that group most often.

But it added there have been indications "that in some states the incidence of paralytic poliomyelitis and the severity of the cases is as great or greater in some age groups above 20 years."

"Your committee trusts that the surgeon general and others responsible will review from time to time the voluntary national priority system now in effect . . . to determine whether the priority groups should be modified to include individuals in selected age groups above 20 years, and advise the Congress of any corresponding changes in this legislation which might be desirable," the report said.

Fort for Children

Olympia, Wash. (AP)— Washington is considering acquisition of a fort for a state institution for retarded children. Fort Worden, once guarded the entrance to Puget Sound and in more recent years had been used for amphibious training. The army abandoned it as an outmoded installation. State officials think it could be converted into a 1,000-bed institution for children as 4½ million dollars less than the cost of a new one.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Pirates bold walked the plank and followed clues in an exciting hunt that finally led to the treasure in "Dead Man's Cave" Monday evening when Cub Pack 9 held its regular monthly meeting at Redeemer Lutheran Church.

A grand entrance of "cutthroats," colorfully arrayed in original costumes, officially began the entertainment based on the theme of the month, "Pirate Waters" under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. John McCullough and Mr. and Mrs. George Villielm. Pirate Chief McCullough led the pack on the treasure hunt which ended in discovery of a buried chest containing "pieces of eight" guarded by a talking skeleton.

A SKIT, "Pirates and Penitance", was enacted by Den 1 with Den Chief Rudy Hopkins in the role of pirate captain, Dennis Markle, Michael Boomhower, and Donald Lane, the pirate crew, Robert Elliott and Robert Villielm, natives of a desert island, and William Daum, the witch doctor.

Den exhibits provided authentic background for the theme with "Jolly Roger" flags flying over model ships, treasure maps, paintings and a treasure island diorama that indicated much research and handwork on the part of the Scouts.

Preceding the entertainment, a roll call and inspection was conducted by District Commissioner Ed Safford, who explained the meaning of the new Scouting program, "Onward for God and My Country." Opening ceremonies were led by Richard Alexander and Bruce Smalling of Den 4.

Cubmaster Bob Elliott welcomed into the pack new Bobcats Thomas Gulday and Wayne Meyer with their families. Advancement awards were as follows:

Den 1—Donald Lane, bear badge; Robert Villielm, silver arrow.

During the parents meeting, Cubmaster Elliott announced a training session for parents of new cubs to be held during National Boy Scout Week in the assembly room of the church at Wurts and Rogers streets Monday, Feb. 6, at 7:30 p. m. George V. Dennis, scout executive of the Rip Van Winkle Council will conduct the meeting. Pack 9 will have its window display for that week at Arace Appliances, 622 Broadway. The annual Blue and Gold Banquet will be held Sunday eevning, Feb. 26.

The closing ceremony was conducted by Commissioner Safford with the Cub Scouts forming a large circle around their den flags. Refreshments were served by Den 4.

"Pirates walking the plank" and the attainment of 100 per cent awards by Den 5 were features of the regular monthly Pack meetings of Cub Scout Pack 19, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1386.

The subject of the legendary sea raiders was portrayed in verse and action in conjunction with the theme of the month, "Pirate Waters." All of the Dens of Pack 19 made presentations based on the theme, along with displays of handicraft pertinent to the theme.

OPENING flag ceremonies for the pack meetings were led by Dens 2 and 4, in charge of Den Chiefs David W. Eighmey, Daniel Devine, and H. Phillips Eighmey, with Dens 1 and 5 serving refreshments at the close of the meetings.

Awards for the month of January were:

Den 1, Betty Eighmey den mother: silver arrow each to Cubs Charles Bonomo, Roger Sahloff, and John Schleede; two-year service star to LeRoy Hamilton.

Den 2—John Coutant, gold arrow; Andrew Gilday, gold arrow; John Sherlock, gold and silver arrows.

Den 3—Gerard Buboltz, silver arrow; Paul Richers, gold and two silver arrows.

Den 4—Richard Alexander, Wolf badge and gold arrow; Raymond Krom, gold arrow; William Reynolds, gold and silver arrows; Bruce Smalling, Bear badge and gold and silver arrows; Robert Marlow, Bear badge and gold and silver arrows.

ONE YEAR PINS were presented to Wayne Bock, John McCullough, and Robert Villielm; denner's stripes to John Coutant and Andrew Gilday; and assistant denner's stripe to Raymond Cole.

Den 2, Lucille Bonomo den mother: Cubs Douglas Eighmey, Randall Bielinski, Robert Lacey, Michael Van Valkenburgh, silver arrow each; William Collins two silver arrows; William Wiegert three silver arrows and a two year service star; John Fisk one year service star and one year perfect attendance pin; Kerry Covey two year service star and two year perfect attendance pin.

DEN 3, Beatrice Connelly den mother: silver arrow each to Cubs Glenn Connelly, Paul Geary, Ronald Rittie, Edward Hoffman, and John Bittner; three silver arrows to Michael Bonomo; denner and assistant denner stripes to Cubs Edward Hoffman and Paul Geary.

Den 4, Doris Ennist den mother: Cub James Wento, bobcat pin and walf badge.

Den 5, Marion Sahloff, den mother: (100 per cent awards for month), Wolf badges to Cubs Edward Bennett, Wayne Edge, Richard Effner, George Glazer, Stephen Keane, Bela Vitarius; gold arrow to Robert Keane; silver arrow to John Quick; denner and assistant denner stripes to Cubs Richard Effner and Wayne Edge.

COMING events for Pack 19 included participation in the window display contest beginning on Saturday, Feb. 4 in the Union Fern window at 328 Wall street; a project to have all Cub Scouts attend their own church in uniform on Scout Sunday, Feb. 12; and the annual Blue and Gold banquet to be held at the Elks Club on Fair street on Monday, Feb. 27 at 6:30, for the entire pack, parents, and friends. Scout Executive George V. Dennis will be the speaker for the Blue and Gold banquet.

ETERNAL (?) LIGHT—The "Eternal Flame of the Confederacy," this gas street lamp in Atlanta, Ga., is having a hard time keeping its flame eternal. First, along came a stiff north (naturally) wind that blew the light out. Rail Head Would Extend Inquiry

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—Alfred E. Perlman, president of the New York Central Railroad which is the subject of a State Public Service Commission hearat Albany today, has suggested that the inquiry be widened to all forms of transportation.

Top operating executives of the New York Central have been summoned before the PSC to testify on passenger complaints of unwarranted delays in service.

Perlman said in a statement last night:

"A GREAT service can be performed by this commission in looking simultaneously at all public transportation serving the people of New York state—railroads, airlines, waterways, highways and thruways. Weighing at the same time the inequalities of taxes and subsidies existing among them.

"For example, at the Albany Airport alone, the airline right now are operating only 37 per cent on-time. At Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse, during the month of December, the airlines cancelled 125 flights.

HE SAID New York Central executives would testify that the company's main line trains in New York state are operating 70 per cent on-time, and commuter trains are 95 per cent on-time.

Calling the weather in past months the worst in 29 years, he said it affected running times of trains already overloaded with holiday travelers and mail.

Onteora School Committee Hears Architect Report

Jedd Stow Reisner of New York city, architect retained by Onteora Board of Education in connection with the district's projected expansion program presented four alternative plans to the members of the Citizens Advisory Committee at this week's meeting of that group.

Mr. Reisner, who temporarily moved his office from New York to Onteora, spent an entire week in preparation of the plans. During that time, he conferred with teachers and school officials, gathered all available data and then drew up sketches and blueprints of four feasible types of construction. The plans and drawings were arranged on bulletin boards at the meeting, so that everyone present could study them.

REFERRING TO the matter of additions to the present building, Mr. Reisner said that, considering the present heating, water and sewage disposal systems, it would not be possible to add more than 10 classrooms plus another cafeteria and a playroom. If this addition were to be made, Mr. Reisner stated that the new wing would be at the open end of the court-yard (as it is now), adjacent to the present kindergarten.

The wing would have two floors—with 6 rooms on the upper and 4 on the lower. A stairway at the end of the kindergarten would lead to the upper floor. The new cafeteria would be placed near the present cafeteria and would have a playroom beneath it. The proposed cafeteria would ease the feeding load, which is a current problem at the school, and would serve as an additional study area.

"Such an addition," said Mr. Reisner, "could easily be converted for junior-senior high school purposes, together with the present building, when the maximum population growth is reached." The estimated cost of the additions, sans furnishings, architect fees, legal fees and landscaping, is $439,776.

In the event that the qualified voters of the school district should decide upon "neighborhood" or "regional" schools as the best solution, Mr. Reisner presented and illustrated three plausible plans:

1. Small elementary kindergarten through 6th grade school for a small population center—This school would have 6 regular classrooms and 1 kindergarten, a combination cafeteria-auditorium-gym, small locker room, health room and administration office, at an estimated cost of $415,800, without furnishings, fees or landscaping.

2. Intermediate elementary school for a medium population center—This would have 12 regular classrooms, 2 kindergartens and 3 special rooms. There would also be a small conference room, administration office, health room and teacher's room with a cost of $635,400, minus landscaping, furnishings or fees.

3. Large elementary school for a major population center—Such a building would have 18 regular classrooms and 3 kindergartens. It would also have 3 special rooms in addition to the administration offices, health room and conference room and would cost $867,000 without furnishings, landscaping or fees.

The estimated prices do not include the cost of the sites.

Mr. Reisner displayed a large drawing in color of a possible regional school. The sketch showed a low, pitched roofed building with several wings. A small porch was at the entrance to each wing and the drawing also pictured a play area adjacent to each section.

THE ARCHITECT said that he would suggest that the building be of cinder block construction and that the slanted roof might possibly have a white stone topping. "Such a roof," he said, "would get away from the box-like effect of this present school." It was also pointed out that a building of this type would appropriately fit in any residential section, as it would be very attractive.

Referring to the interior of the school, Mr. Reisner said that he would like to see exposed cinder block on the upper third of the classroom walls, tack board or chalk board in the middle and linoleum or wainscot on the lower wall portion.

Neighborhood schools would have large boiler rooms, with one boiler in the small building, but with room for another heating plant. Mr. Reisner said that hot water or two-pipe steam heat could be utilized but that the use of warm air would be more economical and would provide adequate warmth.

A SPOKESMAN for the administration stated that, if the "regional" school plan should be adopted, such a school would be as "homelike" as possible, even to using wallpaper and curtains on the windows.

Mr. Reisner stressed that the estimated costs of the additions to the present facilities and the 3 neighborhood schools took in a 10 per cent contingency.

According to the architect, all equipment in any new building should be movable. He said that it would be better all-around and more economical if built-in equipment were eliminated. "For instance," he stated, "we would dispense with fancy wardrobes and built-in book shelves."

ALL CLASSROOMS in the foregoing plans would measure 900 square feet, (approximately 30 feet by 30 feet), with the exception of kindergartens which would have 1,200 square feet.

After some discussion, the meeting was adjourned until Tuesday, Feb. 7 at 8 p. m.

Jury Gets Case

New York, Feb. 2 (AP) — The perjury case against Paul H. Hughes was given to a Federal Court jury at 10:50 a. m., EST, today. Federal Judge Archie O. Dawson, in a 45-minute charge, emphasized to the jury that politics was not involved in the case. Hughes has claimed he was the tool in a political plot. The six counts of perjury against Hughes, 35, World War 2 veteran, stemmed from testimony he gave before a federal grand jury investigating Harvey M. Matusow, former Communist and turn-about government witness.

Bullock Held For Grand Jury

Richard Bullock, 26, of 26 East Union street, who was arrested Jan. 20 on a third degree burglary charge for the alleged theft of junk from a local dealer, was held for the grand jury after City Court appearance today.

Bullock and Clarence Jackson, 37, of East Kingston, were arrested by Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons for participation in the same alleged theft.

Jackson was also held for the grand jury after a preliminary hearing before City Judge Raymond J. Mino Tuesday. Attorney Joseph Avis appeared for Jackson, and Seymour Werbalowsky represented the district attorney's office.

Attorney Matthew Weishaupt appeared for Bullock in court today and John Gotelli represented the district attorney's office.

Three young men arrested early today by Officers William Slover and Edward Edwards on malicious mischief charges were given the choice of paying fines of $5 each or spending five days in jail. The fines were not immediately paid.

Police noted the arrest at 2:55 a. m., and said the trio was charged with having pushed over refuse cans and scattering their contents. They were picked up on Broadway.

Leibhardt Home Is Razed by Fire

The home of Richard Doyle of Liebhardt was destroyed by fire Monday while the family was visiting friends at Lyonsville. Neighbors heard an explosion and on investigating found flames pouring from the windows. The Accord fire department was summoned but by the time the firemen arrived the flames had gained such headway it was impossible to save the house. The firemen turned their attention to a kennel nearby which was saved.

It is believed the fire started through a gas stove explosion.

AT 3 P. M. Wednesday the Accord firemen were summoned to the J. Eidelman apartment house on the Alligerville-High Falls road where a fire was discovered in an upstairs apartment shortly after Eidelman had left for New York. Members of the Everett Jaray family, residing downstairs, discovered the fire and called the Accord department. Due to the start which the fire had the High Falls department was summoned for aid. Through prompt action the downstairs apartment was saved, although considerably damaged, while the upstairs apartment was practically destroyed, according to the Accord fire report.

Urge Children Be Registered For Salk Shots

It is imperative that parents of children in the five to nine year age group who are eligible for Salk polio vaccine, which will be distributed next week to physicians, register their children now with their family physician.

It was pointed out today by Dr. Dudley W. Hargrave, Ulster county commissioner of health, that the Salk vaccine will be limited to children between five and nine years of age and only those children in that group who have been listed with their family physician as desirous of having the shot administered. The supply is limited and only sufficient vaccine will be distributed to any physician to meet the needs of those who are on the physician's list.

The vaccine will be administered by the family physician to those children who have been registered.

Would Give Food

hearing on his proposal before the group winds up its hearings on the House-passed bill.

THE MAIN sections of the House bill would lower from 65 to 62 the age at which women may receive social security payments, and would make totally disabled persons eligible for benefits at age 50, instead of 65. As it passed the House last year, the measure contained no food stamp provisions.

Kerr said co-sponsors of his proposal include 18 Democrats and four Republicans.

THE FOOD stamp plan has been proposed by several other lawmakers recently, but usually in connection with farm legislation. A form of it was in effect before World War 2.

"Now that the administration is trying to blame most troubles on what they call 'farm surpluses,'" Kerr said, "perhaps we can get some cooperation from Secretary (of Agriculture) Benson to help get the stamp plan passed and sympathetically administered.

"Just as the administration is reversing previous opposition to some of the long-sought constructive farm measures, perhaps they will grab this one and merchandise it as a great 'new program' they have originated and embraced."

Report Domestic Help for Social Security Purpose

One of the major difficulties encountered by the Kingston District Office of the Social Security Administration during 1955 was securing the cooperation of home owners in reporting their domestics, George J. Johnson, manager, points out in the following actual case with the names changed for obvious purposes:

Recently, Mrs. George Clark was discussing social security with her maid, Mary Jones. "You know, Mary, it's not so easy hiring a maid as it used to be. Now, I've got to copy your social security number on a report and take 2 per cent out of your earnings. Arithmetic wasn't my best subject in school. And keeping these records so that I can report each quarter is quite a job for me. I can't help wondering if this is going to do you any good. How can a tax of $4 a month help you at your age?"

"Well, Mrs. Clark, my son thought the same thing but he suggested that I go to the nearest social security office to find out. They told me that as long as I earned at least $50 cash wages in a 3-month calendar quarter of the year both my employer and I would have to pay the tax. I wasn't too happy about this until I found out just what it would mean to me."

WHAT MARY found out at the social security office was that as she is now sixty she will only have to work about five years before she can start to get monthly old-age insurance payments. And if she works that number of years, she was told that her earnings of $100 a month will mean a social security benefit of $55 a month. Moreover, she found out that anyone can earn $1200 a year and still receive their benefits so that she could keep on working after age 65 if she wanted to, and still get her monthly benefits.

"A while ago I visited my nephew who is a chauffeur," Mary said. "We got to talking about social security. He said that his old-age benefit would be about $100 a month. More important to him, now though, was the fact that if something happened and he died, his wife and small children would receive $200 monthly. You see, Mrs. Clark, social security means more to him because he isn't working in a large plant where they have pension plans and other benefits."

"Well, Mary, I have learned something new," said Mrs. Clark. "There's no doubt that life is getting more complicated these days. But, there's also no doubt that social security taxes do mean a lot to you and other household employes. You can rest assured that I'll gladly do my share."

WE HOPE all employers will be as cooperative as Mrs. Clark in reporting their domestic employes for social security purposes.

Any housewife can receive the necessary information in the booklet, "Do You Have a Maid", Number OAS1-21, which will be sent upon request.

The Kingston District Office is located in the Central Post Office Building, Broadway. Telephone 7307.

Republican Women Hold Meeting; Hear Reassessment Talk

The Ulster County Republican Women's Club held its meeting Monday, Jan. 31 at the Governor Clinton Hotel and heard Eric Murill, district supervisor of the Cole-Layer-Trumble Company, discuss the reassessment program in Kingston. Mrs. Harry DeWitt, the newly-elected president presided at the meeting.

Mr. Murill, who was introduced to the group by Mayor Frederick H. Stang, explained why he felt the reassessment program was an important one to Kingston. He said that many properties have increased or decreased in value over a period of years and it would be only fair to all concerned to have the proper adjustments made. He also explained how unfair assessments can hurt a city, especially a growing one like Kingston.

Forrest Dyer, resident junior supervisor of the Cole-Layer-Trumble Company, also spoke briefly to the club.

Mrs. Robert Rognon gave an interesting report about the annual meeting of the Federation of Women's Republican Clubs of New York State which was held at Hotel Roosevelt in New York city Jan. 19.

The Lincoln Day dinner was discussed and all members and friends were urged to obtain their reservations before Feb. 10. Tickets are available from Mrs. Leslie Hotaling or any member of the club.

It was announced that Judge William B. Groat of Queens county in New York will be the guest speaker at the dinner.

Miss Blanche Wagg Describes Her Work At Reformatory

Miss Blanche Wagg, director of religious education of the Old Dutch Church, described her work as director of the "Melody Hour" program at the Framingham Women's Reformatory in Massachusetts at the annual meeting of the YWCA last night.

The program, begun in 1947 by two college girls, has become an integral part of rehabilitation work among inmates of the institution, she said. The program reaches women from 14 to 70 years of age during the period of their committal—from six months to life.

By visits, Bible study groups, parties and church services the "Melody Hour" program has endeavored to help inmates return to society.

She described vividly her experiences in the institution and some of the problems encountered.

"To realize that most of those committed had virtually the same life pattern, with little or no contact with religious organizations and community associations, makes those of us here tonight realize how necessary our work as members of the YWCA must be," she said.

Mrs. Ralph Deyo was presented with a certificate of life membership and a corsage by Mrs. Fred Port, president of the board of directors. Mrs. Helen Gill announced the results of the election of new board members: Miss Rose Crocchiolo, Mrs. Vincent Guido, Mrs. Al Sonnenberg, Mrs. Gertrude Winter, Miss Ethel Hull, Mrs. Marshall Winchell, Mrs. Lois Fitzgerald and Mrs. Alex Gerlak.

Preceding the talk Mrs. Sonnenberg, accompanied by Mrs. John Hill, sang "Overtones" by Rasbach and "Without a Song" by Youmans.

Good Taste Today

THE HOSTESS DID NOT HELP

Today's first letter explains: "The other evening a friend invited my husband and me to dinner. We go to this friend's house often and thinking there would be just the four of us and it would be a quiet friendly evening, I didn't bother to dress. That is, I didn't wear my best clothes and my husband wore a tweed suit. When we arrived we found it was a large dinner party and everyone was dressed up. I felt terribly embarrassed and was quite put out with the hostess for not having told us that it was to be a party. Shouldn't we have been told about this beforehand, and should we have gone home to change?"

If you live very close by, you could have run home very quickly and changed, but if you live at a distance there was nothing to do but face what was (I agree) a distressing situation. If you seldom dress when dining in this house, the hostess was very much to blame for not telling you that they were dressing on this particular evening.

A Name Question

Dear Mrs. Post: What is the correct name for a wife to use when she and her husband are separated, but not divorced?

Answer: Usually she keeps his name. The fact that they have different addresses shows that they have separated. The further fact that neither can remarry avoids the complication of ex-wife and wife No. 2 having duplicate names. This is the principal reason why the divorcee properly gives up her husband's surname and substitutes it with her maiden name.

While Boy Pays Check

Dear Mrs. Post: When I am having dinner in a restaurant with a boy, where am I supposed to stand to wait for him while he pays the check?

Answer: You just walk slowly towards the door and wait, exactly as you do when he goes to the box office to buy theatre tickets.

Mother, 5 Children Perish in Blaze

Portland, Ore., Feb. 2 (AP)—A mother and five children died in a fire that destroyed their home in a matter of minutes in a suburban area five miles east of Portland last night.

Only the father, Arthur Merrill Graham, 50, escaped. He said he got out only because an explosion, presumably of an oil heater, blew him through a window.

Sheriff's Deputy Robert Hewitt said Graham told him he was awakened on his living room davenport by the heat and was groping in the smoke when the explosion came.

He told authorities that those trapped inside were:

Mrs. Thelma May Graham, 39, his wife; his four children, Richard Michael Graham, 7, Susan May Graham, 5, Kathleen Joan Graham, 3, Arthur Merrill Graham Jr., 2, and a nephew, Gerald Edward Myers, 13.

Maspeth Man Dies In 4-Car Mishap

Reading, Pa., Feb. 2 (AP)—Anthony Albert, 64, of Maspeth, Long Island, N. Y., was fatally injured yesterday in a four-car collision on the Pennsylvania Turnpike three miles east of the Reading interchange. One other person was injured seriously and two others escaped unhurt.

Geore L. Bauer, 55, of Harrisburg, was admitted to nearby Ephrata Community Hospital in serious condition.

State police said a convertible driven by Stephen Cardon, 20, of Merion Station, Pa., struck the rear of a station wagon driven by Mrs. Jane Nash, 44, of Hartsville, Pa. Cardon's car swerved into the adjacent lane, striking Albert's car and pushing it into Bauer's car. traveling in the opposite direction, police said. Bauer was traveling west.

Blonde Is Queen

Quebec, Feb. 2 (AP)—Gisele Amyot, pretty 20-year-old blonde, was crowned queen of the 1956 Quebec Winter Carnival last night. Some 15,000 persons saw Miss Amyot receive her crown in a three-hour program at Quebec's Coliseum. She won over six other girls. They will be her attendants for the carnival activities during the next two weeks.

McKay Proposed To Oppose Morse For Senate Seat

Spokane, Wash., Feb. 2 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson militantly defended administration farm policies and put in a plug for a cabinet colleague as a possible senatorial candidate during a flying stopover here last night.

Benson said Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay, former Oregon governor, was the Republican party's best hope of capturing the seat now held by Sen. Morse (D.-Ore.).

"NEXT TO the election of Eisenhower, the defeat of Wayne Morse is the most important task before the Republicans", he said.

McKay was proposed here earlier as the logical man to try to unseat Morse by Washington's GOP National Committeeman Harlan Peyton.

Benson, who will address the National Assn. of Grain Growers at Portland tomorrow and fund-raising luncheons in eastern Washington Friday, called the administration's proposed farm measures a "billion dollar plus program."

"EVERYWHERE I find farmers are thinking too soundly to expect or want any white rabbit solutions to their problems," he said. "They expect programs that are economically sound and fair to all our people. And they want these programs on a voluntary basis with the government cooperating, not dictating—programs which help them to help themselves."

Battle Lines Drawn

Concord, N. H., Feb. 2 (AP)—Final battle lines have been drawn for the first-in-the-nation New Hampshire presidential primary elections March 13. On the popularity side of the ballot, President Eisenhower is unopposed as a Republican and Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) uncontested as a Democrat. In the balloting for control of the state's delegation to the national conventions, however, both face opposition.

The neat and slender lines of the spring, 1956 coat are shown here in three very different silhouettes, all of them fresh, all of them new. Originala's coat in sky blue fleece (left) is narrow at the top, falls to a gentle flare at the hem. Fake pocket flaps are placed high; there's a three-button closing. Pale beige coat (center) from Monte Sano and Pruzan has high-banded pockets and wide front panels but no buttons. There's a high cardigan neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. Davidow's coat in seven-eighths length (right) is in soft beige tweed, is worn over simple, classic suit. Both suit and coat have deep patch pockets. Coat is back belted, has button detail on skirt panel pleats. Fabrics continue their trend to a much lighter weight.

Why We Say--

TAIL WAGGER: The word coward is derived from the Latin word "cauda" for dog's tail. The dog was considered to be an extremely courageous animal, but when one was seen to run away from danger the animal was held in contempt and called a "cauda dog," which soon came to us as the word coward.

Again it is Groundhog Day and again weather prophets are engaged in the annual argument as to whether the animal saw his shadow or not. It took us many years in childhood to get it straight in our mind that if he saw his shadow he would retire to his den for another six weeks of cold weather, and if he didn't see his shadow spring was just around the corner. We knew that shadows couldn't be produced without the aid of some bright light, such as the sun; and we couldn't understand why, if the sun was shining when the groundhog emerged, he wouldn't decide that it already was spring and remain outside. And now that we finally do have it straightened out, we don't know what good it does us, on account of the United States weather man doesn't seem to know there is any such thing as a groundhog tradition and keeps on dishing out whatever brand of weather he happens to have in stock—which thus far has been most disastrous to the coal pile, you will agree. However, if the ground hog did scuttle back to his hole this morning, we don't know that we blame him much—what with floods and strikes and wars and general upsetness marring the face of the earth. If we had a hole, we think we would crawl into it, too.

Bronx Doctor Killed In Turnpike Crash

Carteret, N. J., Feb. 2 (AP)—A Bronx, N. Y., physician was killed on the New Jersey Turnpike yesterday when his 1956 (Austin) car ran off the road into a bridge abutment.

State police said Dr. Laredo Clemente, 32, of 130 W. Kingsbridge road, the Bronx, apparently was traveling at a high rate of speed at the time of the mishap at Roosevelt avenue here.

Dr. Clemente, a physician at Kingsbridge Veterans Hospital, was pronounced dead at the scene.

FRIEND OR FOE?—That white stuff that fell recently in Greenville S.C., kind of puzzles 13-month-old Joey Jordan, who can't recall seeing snow before. So he sits down to examine it more closely (center) only to find that snow can be uncomfortably cold. At right Joey sets up a howl for someone to rescue him from the "bad" stuff. It was Greenville's first snow of the year—1/10 of an inch deep.

Roundup of Albany Bills

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP)—School instruction in handling firearms, as a means of making hunting safer, was proposed yesterday in the Legislature.

Two Rochester Republicans, Sen. George T. Manning and Assemblyman A. Gould Hatch, submitted bills that would authorize any school under state control to provide courses in the safe and proper use of firearms. The instruction would include study of game laws and sound hunting and conservation practices.

A second measure would provide that a student who completes such a course approved by the State Education Department be entitled to hold a hunting license.

A BILL to limit all state employes' work week to 40 hours in five days was submitted by Sen. Fred J. Rath of Utica and Assemblyman James A. Fitz-Patrick of Plattsburgh, Republicans.

It was introduced at the request of the Civil Service Employes Assn. John F. Power, association president said 33,000 state employes were working a 44 and 48-hour week, mostly in institutions.

"The present salary which these employes receive including overtime is barely enough to meet subsistence levels for those employes with any family at all," Powers said.

UNDER Gov. Harriman's plan, scheduled to go into effect April 1, about 4,000 employes now on a 44-hour week would be placed on a 40-hour week, and about 29,000 working 48 hours a week would be cut back to 44 hours. There would be no loss in pay.

Bills to require the state to reimburse motorists for injuries or damage caused by wild deer roaming in high-speed traffic was introduced by Sen. Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston and Assemblyman Edwyn E. Mason of Delaware county, Republicans.

ON HIGHWAYS, they said, "a vehicle striking a deer may cause the driver to lose control of his car with serious or even fatal effects."

Wicks and Mason said that despite miles of high wire fence along the Thruway, accidents caused by deer were becoming frequent. They proposed that claims be handled through the Court of Claims.

Other bills would:

Abolish capital punishment by making first-degree murder punishable by life imprisonment (Sen. Dutton S. Peterson, R.-Odessa).

Require skippers of motorboats in accidents to report within 24 hours to the police or local judicial officer (Assemblyman Charles A. Cusick, R.-Cayuga county).

Increase from $2,500 to $5,000 the maximum amount of public work contract that a municipality may enter into without competitive bidding (Assemblyman Charles D. Henderson, R.-Hornell).

Along Capitol Corridors

By HENRY LEADER

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP) — Rep. Ralph W. Gwinn of Bronxville is booming Assemblyman Malcolm Wilson of Yonkers to succeed Oswald D. Heck as Assembly speaker if Heck is elected governor in 1958.

Gwinn launched the boom for his fellow Westchester county Republican at a dinner of the Town of Eastchester Republican Committee the other night.

HE CALLED WILSON, a lawyer, "one of the most able legislators" Westchester ever had sent to Albany. Wilson is serving his eighth term.

Gwinn said Heck had a "bipartisan record of recognition and distinction" that would elect him governor "almost by acclamation."

Heck no doubt wishes he felt so sure of nomination and election.

As for Wilson: He is regarded as a highly competent legislator. He is one of the best debaters in the Assembly. He masters his subject before he speaks—and he delivers his words with force and often with telling effect.

HOWEVER, HE would be likely to encounter stiff competition for the speakership. Joseph Carlino of Long Beach, the Assembly majority leader, and Elisha Barrett of Brightwaters, probably would be in there swinging.

* * *

There are many cushy jobs in the state service that Gov. Harriman has not filled with Democrats. From time to time, reporters ask him about this or that post and when he intends to fill it.

HARRIMAN USUALLY replies that he has not yet found a man he considers fully qualified. And he adds that he won't move until he does find one.

Meanwhile, a lot of hungry Democrats, who have all the available positions neatly catalogued, are grinding their teeth.

* * *

Correspondents covering the state capitol are wondering whether members of Harriman's staff who help him draft his special messages to the Legislature are paid by the word. The messages often run into several thousand words. Legislators groan (the Democrats quietly) when the Senate and Assembly clerks begin reading these long essays.

That's a hint to us to end this piece.

Charity Rackets In for Stiffer Curbs by State

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP)—Stiff new curbs on charity rackets were introduced in the Legislature today for expected approval.

The joint legislative committee on charitable and philanthropic agencies and organizations sponsored a series of measures intended to tighten the state's two-year-old year requiring registration of charitable groups.

Key proposal was establishment of a charities registration board in the State Social Welfare Department with board powers to reject or cancel the registration of any organization that fails to comply with provisions of the anti-charity racket law.

THE ATTORNEY general has the power to seek injunctions against groups that are not registered.

Members of the board would be the chairman of the State Social Welfare Board, the attorney general and the secretary of state.

The board could revoke the registration of any organization that made false statements to the board, diverted funds to purpose other than those for which they solicted, sent unordered merchandise to persons, or failed to furnish information about its activities requested by the board.

OTHER MEASURES in the committee program would:

1. Make it a misdemeanor for an organization to make false statements in dealings with the board.
2. Provide that registration statement and reports filed with the board shall be available for inspection by the public.
3. Empower the attorney general to seek injunction against organizations that make false statements in dealings with the board.
4. Require organizations to keep contracts with professional fund raisers on file in their offices for at least three years.

Sen. Frank S. McCullough, Rye Republican who heads the committee, said the measures would "plug the holes through which gyp organizations violate the intent of the anti-racket law.

"WE ARE confident," he said, "the legislation will stop the flood of fountain pens, pencils, socks, neckties and other articles which have proved annoying and embarassing to the recipients."

The committee's program is expected to receive solid support from the Legislature's Republican majorities.

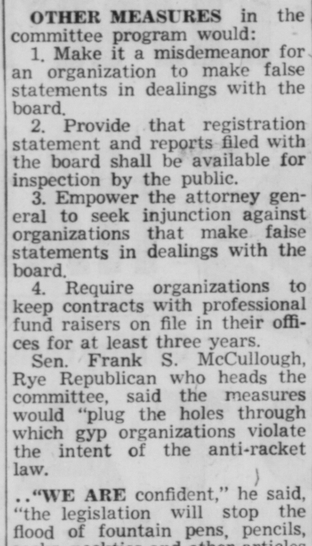

Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits gave his endorsement to the program. Javits said the measures submitted by the committee "will go far to assure that the people's contributions to charities fulfill their purpose."

Alaska has more than seven million acres of national parks.

Free World's Atomic Retaliation Power Seen Stalling Red Grabs

Editor's Note—In two articles this week William L. Ryan has discussed the significance of current Soviet moves in the fields of trade and economic warfare. Today, in the last of a series, he analyzes some of the underlying elements of the military situation.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

There is a long political-economic war ahead for the United States and the Soviet Union.

As the years go by, developments in super-weapons may minimize the question of superiority of one side or the other in the military field.

Already, a stand-off in nuclear weapons is forcing the East-West quarrel into the field of economic and political competition. And with each year of such competition, the military picture will be changing.

THE FREE WORLD still has the ability and the power to retaliate massively to aggression, and even political aggression such as that which seized Czechoslovakia would carry with it today the threat of atomic world war. Thus, in the opinion of some highly placed observers, the Russians are prevented from seizing many an otherwise alluring opportunity.

The Soviet Communist party's 20th Congress, opening two weeks hence, undoubtedly will set off a flood of propaganda for unconditional prohibition of nuclear weapons by international agreement. Even today, western leaders are asking: Aside from the obvious question of foolproof safeguards in such an agreement, is it going to be possible in the future to distinguish between atomic and nonatomic war?

Perhaps the question of nuclear warfare already has become one of degree. Within a few years the use of weapons capable of erasing vast areas might be automatically excluded, for fear of retaliation on both sides. The standoff in that field would seem complete.

At the moment, American military thinking relies heavily on its Strategic Air Command and SAC's ability to deliver the hydrogen bomb anywhere. In three or four years, Communist orbit developments could pare down the advantage.

But in the electronic age, tactical atomic weapons seem to have arrived virtually at the point of becoming conventional weapons. The United States probably has a long lead in this field.

IF TACTICAL atomic weapons were used to counter a Red aggression, would that lead eventually to use of the big bombs? If fear of that existed, the advantage would swing back to conventional forces.

On the continent of Europe, the USSR has and will have for a long time to come a great superiority in ground forces. There are only about 15 active divisions available to the NATO command to protect a European front of hundreds of miles. German rearmament progresses slowly. NATO's members are reluctant to build up their effective forces. Without the threat of what Secretary of States Dulles calls "massive retaliation," little would stand in the way of Red military aggression.

SOME AMERICAN leaders feel a complete ban on nuclear weapons therefore would be handing the Soviet Union a long-range political advantage generated by the mass of Soviet land power. Thus, the current discussion of a "new look" in atomic weapons becomes a matter of grave importance.

A highly placed informant in Washington indicates this was the line of thinking behind the recent "brink of war" statement attributed to Secretary Dulles. The idea was to make an announcement like this to the Communist world:

World War 1 probably began as the result of an aggressor's miscalculation of American intentions. World War 2 similarly resulted from miscalculation of what the United States might do. The big "little war" in Korea was a feint, testing American intentions, and probably a miscalculation of those intentions by Moscow. Therefore the United States now wants to make clear its intentions, so there will be no similar miscalculations in the future.

THE ARGUMENT continues: The Soviet Union understood this language. Thus it shifted tactics abruptly and chose to challenge the United States on other grounds for the time being. This shift began to take shape early in 1954 when the crisis in Indochina was at the boiling point. A good argument can be made for the idea that this shift in itself represented a victory for long-range American policies.

There is still a possibility that all Viet Nam, and eventually all Indochina, will fall under communism through political infiltration and domination. So it is difficult for many to accept the Dulles contention that stopping the Communists halfway on their military march was actually a victory for the west. Communism gained ground there, and paused to consolidate its gains. But will communism drive forward again, after catching its breath, when American intentions have been plainly stated?

THE PROPAGANDA disadvantages of announcing such an American policy of strong deterrents are obvious, and Soviet propagandists can be expected to make the most of them.

But the deterrent still leaves the free world with time to build its counteroffensive. While the Soviet Union is short of its economic goals at home, while it is struggling with its own long-range strategic planning to protect the U.S.S.R. against the possibility of global war, the Kremlin is unlikely to move aggressively beyond its noisy but still ineffective economic grandstand plays.

War on that field—economic competition — is bringing the game to American home grounds. It offers the free world the opportunity to seize the initiative. It offers an anxious world hope of safety from a major shooting war for years to come, years in which to wage the economic and political war for peace.

Fear of Wife Leaving Ends in Tragedy

Watkins Glen, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP)—A 41-year-old cattle raiser's fear that his wife might leave him has ended in death for him, his wife and 11-year-old son.

Harry Pulver died in a Rochester hospital yesterday, about 12 hours after he shot his wife, Helen, 38, his son, Philip, and then fired a 22-caliber rifle bullet into his own head.

Police in the Schuyler county village described the tragedy as double murder and suicide.

District Attorney Liston F. Coon said Pulver would have been charged with first-degree murder had he lived.

The shootings occurred in the Pulver farmhouse near Wayne, a rural community 15 miles northwest of here.

Coon said Pulver had left a note in which he indicated that he feared his wife was going to leave him and in which he said that shooting was "the best way out."

Honor Student Held As 'Thrill Bomber'

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—A 16-year-old boy—a high school honor student with a flair for chemistry—was held by police today as a movie theatre "thrill bomber."

Police said Richard Schumann, of 35-28 34th street, Astoria, Queens, admitted making the small bomb which exploded last Saturday night in the Triboro Theatre in Astoria.

The blast shattered glass and plaster, injured four persons slightly and caused near-panic among 1,300 patrons.

Police said the Schumann boy, who was arrested at his home last night, was traced after fragments of the bomb were analyzed and detectives questioned operators of stores selling hardware and chemicals for a description of a purchaser of materials used in the bomb.

Swede Captures Olympic Ski Marathon

U. S., Russians, Canadians Tied In Hockey Play

Cortina D'Ampezzo, Italy, Feb. 2 (AP)—An indefatigable Swede, redeeming two close defeats, won the taxing 50-kilometer cross country ski marathon today and Canada's hockey team leaped back into contention in the seventh Winter Olympic games.

Sixten Jernberg raced through the sun-splotched pines of the Ampezzo Valley in subzero weather to win the 31 miles, 120 yards grind in two hours, 50 minutes and 27 seconds, the fastest in Olympic annals. He was one minute, 18 seconds ahead of the defending champion, Finland's Veikko Hakulinen, his conqueror in the 30-meter race.

Sharing the limelight with the marathon race on this seventh day of the games was the women's figure skating free style finals in which America's world champion, Tenley Albright of Newton Center, Mass., and 16-year-old Carol Heiss of Ozone Park, N. Y., were favored to win gold and silver medals.

This competition started at 8:30 a. m. (EST).

CANADA, upset by the United States in hockey Tuesday night, bounded back to beat Germany 10-0 and go into a temporary tie with the Americans and Russians for the lead in the round robin tournament. The Canadians have won two games and lost one. The U. S., which plays Swenen today, and Russia, which engages Czechoslovakia, have two victories each. In hockey, victories count two points, ties one.

Russia picked up seven points with third, fourth and sixth placings in the ski marathon and boosted its unofficial team total to 101 points, a lead virtually impossible to overcome in the final three days of the competition.

Sweden, jumping into the runnerup spot, has 53 points, followed by Austria 48½, Norway 44 and Switzerland 33½. The United States was seventh with 28½ but stood to improve its position in women's figure skating, hockey and four-man bobsleds.

JERNBERG, second to Hakulinen in the 30-kilometer and runnerup to Norway's Hallgeir Brenden in the 15-kilometer, leaped into the lead almost at the start of the race and kept ahead of Hakulinen's pace all the way.

Hakulinen was second in 2:51:45, followed by Russia's Fedor Terentiev in 2:53:32, Eero Kolehmainen of Finland in 2:56:17 and another Russian, Anatoli Scheljuhlin, in 2:56:40.

The big Swede's triumph brought his country a second gold medal and maintained the unbroken monopoly of the Scandinavian countries in Nordic events—cross-country, combined at ski-jumping.

The previous best time for the 50-kilometer race was 3:30:11 set by Sweden's Elis Viklund in 1936. Jernberg's time is not listed as a record because of varying course conditions in the games.

Yankees Sign Hawaiian Ace

Jack Ladra, an Hawaiian who played against the touring Yankees during their first three games in the islands last fall, has been signed to a Class C contract for their Quincy farm, the Yankees announced yesterday.

He will be flown to Florida as an added starter at the Yankees' instructional school at St. Petersburg. Ladra, 22, is just out of service. He attended Fresno State College.

Syracuse Drops Big Red From Big Three Scramble

(By The Associated Press)

Cornell was out of the race for the mythical upstate Big Three honors today, following a tough, 96-94, overtime loss at Syracuse last night.

And Colgate, the other member of the Big Three, will have to hustle to unseat Syracuse. Both remaining Big Three clashes this season pit Colgate against Syracuse and the Red Raiders will have to win them both.

The game was half of a twin bill. LeMoyne, suffering from the illness of star Dick Kenyon, was drubbed 80-56 by Steubenville. And Cortland, behind the 22-point performance of Lou LaGrand, scored a 93-77 triumph over host Ithaca in another upstate game.

CORNELL LED the Orange until the last 48 seconds of the regulation time. A basket by Jim Brown then put the Orange ahead 86-85. The game went into overtime when Cornell's Chuck Rolles missed with the second of two free shots.

Syracuse took leads of 90-86 and 96-91. The Big Red fought back with all its vigor, but Syracuse froze the ball as the clock ran out. As a consolation to the losers, Rolles set a new floor record by netting 42 points.

Syracuse now is 2-0 in Big Three competition. Colgate is 1-1 and Cornell is 1-3.

Gardens Defeats Empire Diner 56-55

Geiselhart's Deuces Decide 'A' League Game

Tom Geiselhart pumped four quick field goals in the last three minuts to produce a 56-55 win for Valley Gardens over Empire Diner in the A bracket of the Y Basketball League. The Yellow Jackets defeated Lou's Cleaners, 47-43, and Schrader's rolled over Accord, 83-64. in the B division companion pieces.

The Gardners opened a two-point lead at the end of the first period but Empire splurged to a seven-point spread at the intermission. They exchanged the scoring lead in the third and fourth stanzas until Geiselhart racked up his four deuces in the last three minutes.

Four of the Gardeners hit for double figures with George Sheeley's 11 points pacing the attack. A. Anderson, M. Anderson and Perc Greene hit for 10 apiece.

BILL DUBOIS rimmed 19 for Empire and Bill Haber was in the runnerup spot with 17.

The Jackets commanded the ball game throughout against Lou's. Bucky Miller canned six field goals for the 12-point leadership as Don Davis and John Burris contributed 10 apiece.

Tom Stenson, Ron Carroll and Jack Schrader made a shambles of the Accord defense in the other B division contest. Carroll was the big gun, bucketing 29 points. Stenson fired 11 for a 22-point contribution and Schrader tossed in 18.

Rangers Regain Second Beating Toronto, 5-2

(By The Associated Press)

The New York Rangers were back in second place in the National Hockey League today. But almost equally as important they're fast cementing a Stanley Cup playoff berth.

The surprising Blueshirts, who would have settled for fourth place at the season's start, won another one last night, trouncing the Toronto Maple Leaf's 5-2 before a welcome-home crowd of 14,702 in Madison Square Garden. It was the only game played in the NHL.

THE VICTORY gave the Rangers, back in familiar surrounds after a nine-game road trip, 57 points, one more than the Detroit Red Wings. Montreal remains way out in front with 68 points.

The defeat was a tough one for the fourth-place Leafs, who are locked in a close battle with Chicago and Boston for the last qualifying Stanley Cup berth. Toronto has 41 points, the Hawks 37 and the Bruins 35.

Actually, the Maple Leafs were no match for the Rangers last night. Before the first period was over, Larry Popein, Wally Hergesheimer and Danny LeWicki had scored putting New York in front 3 to 1.

Mack Stays Home; First Since '88

High School on Road in Next Two Games

Play Monties Friday, Then Go to Hudson

Victorious in its three-game home stand, the Kingston High School basketball squad hits the road in its next pair of contests.

Tomorrow night, the Kingstonians visit Monticello in a DUSO League game. On Tuesday, the local quintet journeys to Hudson.

Three UCAL games are also on tomorrow night's card. The pairings are Highland at Saugerties, Marlboro at Onteora and Wallkill at Kerhonkson.

In another DUSO duel, Newburgh visits Ellenville.

KINGSTON clobbered the Monticello players 84-38 in the first meeting back in December. If the Monties come any closer this time, it'll probably be through Kingston's mercy.

Monticello hasn't tasted victory in nine DUSO outings. Kingston, standing third, has a 6-2 record.

Last Tuesday's game against Fallsburgh didn't give the locals any chance to prove themselves under pressure.

Yet the Maroons looked classy. They didn't regard the game as a pushover, preferring instead to "play it straight."

TOMORROW'S foe isn't expected to provide the KHS crew with much trouble; and the locals also whipped Hudson rather easily. But after this pair comes three tough cookies: Port Jervis, Poughkeepsie and Newburgh. Those games will decide the DUSO pennant.

Saugerties, rolling towards an unbeaten season and a second straight UCAL championship, can clear one of its few remaining obstacles by beating Highland.

The Sawyers won by 20 points when the teams met two months ago, but since then Highland has showed vast improvement.

Kerhonkson put the brakes on Highland's title bid last Friday. But now the Highlanders don't have the pressure on them; if the down-county team bounces back, Saugerties may find trouble.

MARLBORO and Onteora collide in what will probably be the night's closest game. The MCS players won the first game, 54-52. This one couldn't be much closer, but it could be just as exciting.

Kerhonkson, awaiting its big game with Saugerties on Feb. 21, is the choice to tumble Wallkill. Kerhonkson can't afford to stumble; one slip from here on in and Saugerties will take the marbles again.

Andrade Nips Carter on Split Vote in Chicago

Chicago, Feb. 2 (AP)—Former lightweight champion, Jimmy Carter sat quietly in his dressing room at Chicago Stadium last night.

He had just lost a close official decision to Cisco Andrade, 26, a nifty little fighter from Compton, Calif., who has been beaten only twice in 35 bouts.

Most of the ringside sports writers at the nationally televised 10 rounder gave Carter the edge. The Associated Press card favored him 97-95.

CARTER, sitting relaxed on a bench in his quarters, spoke like the champion he once was. Three times he has worn the lightweight crown. In most cases, a fighter who has dropped such a decision would be harping about it plenty. Carter took it like a gentleman.

Andrade was the winner as Judge E. A. Frankel and Referee Joe White scored in his favor 95-94 and 96-95 respectively. Judge Lou Capparelli favored Carter 97-95. Andrade was outweighed 140-136 and most of his points were piled up from a stinging, rapid-fire left jab. Carter, however, blocked many of them.

Andrade used the jab so much that he bruised his left hand and had to give it a long soak in a buicket of cold water after the fight.

"I was confident I was winning all the way," Andrade said.

Robinson-Olson April 27 on Coast

Hollywood, Feb. 2 (AP)—Promoter Jackie Leonard of the Hollywood Legion Stadium has signed middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson and Bobo Olson for a rematch April 27. He said the fight would be held at Wrigley Field in Los Angeles or Gilmore Field in Hollywood.

Robinson accepted an estimated $75,000 or 30 per cent of the gate and national TV receipts, Leonard said yesterday. He also said the International Boxing Club would not be in the position of co-promoter and would figure only in the TV money.

Olson, knocked out in the second round by Robinson last Dec. 9 at Chicago, would be reimbursed by 30 per cent of the gate, but without a guarantee of any sum.

Immaculates Rout St. Josephs

"Butch" Tomaseskie did it the hard way by scoring all of his 26 points from the field in the CYO Metropolitan loop as the Immaculate Conception romped to a 75-50 victory over St. Joseph's.

The Conception five was trailing by four points at the end of the first period but Tomaseskie found the range in the second stanza and the winners were never headed.

TWO OTHER players posted double figures. Dick Dempsey rimmed 13 points and Tony Turck collected 11.

Bob Sember fired 12 points for St. Joseph's while Vince Haines and Bill Chase poured in 10 apiece.

Muhlenberg Stops Temple

By ED WILKS
(The Associated Press)

And now there are two.

Only frollicking San Francisco and St. Francis of Brooklyn remain unbeaten in major college basketball today with Temple now a member of the dearly departed.

Muhlenberg, an 11-4 giant-killer this season, broke Temple's bubble 67-66 last night to snap the Owls' 13-game winning streak.

You might say the unranked Mules, who opened the schedule by upsetting La Salle, had a heckuva lot of Gall knocking off the nation's seventh-rated club. Fact is, it was a 6-1 Bobby Gall who dumped in 20 points to pace the predominately junior squad.

GALL HAD GREAT help, however, from Cardy Gemma, who bagged 13 points and superbly defensed Guy Rodgers. The Owls' backcourt scoring ace didn't get a field goal for 29 minutes and wound up with a scant 10 points. That left the big job to Hal Lear and although he hit for 28, it wasn't enough.

The Mules led 31-13 at one point, but the score tightened in the second half. The lead changed hands 11 times in the last 7 minutes before the Mules moved to a 3-point edge and went into a freeze with 1.22 left. Rodgers sank a mean-nothing lapup at the buzzer.

Duke, ranked 10th, was another major victim last night, although not unexpectedly. The Blue Devils were leveled by eighth-ranked Kentucky 81-76 as Jerry Bird fired a late first half Wildcat surge.

Second ranked Dayton, prodded by Coach Tommy Blackburn's observation that "the test of a good team is whether it can come back after defeat," righted itself by walloping Loyola of Chicago 75-37. The Flyers were drummed out of the unbeaten ranks by Louisville Saturday.

THREE OTHER upsets last night saw Fordham defeat Connecticut 82-72, while Georgetown (D.C.) clipped St. Joseph's (Pa.) 84-72 and Adrian (Mich.) ended an 18-game winning string by Definance (Ohio) 82-77.

Elsewhere among the ranked teams, Holy Cross (No. 14) whipped Creighton 97-60 as Tom Heinsohn scored 22 and cleared 22 rebounds in his 31 minutes of play; Oklahoma City (No. 15) smacked Loyola (New Orleans) 81-66 and Memphis State (No. 16) trampled Murray (Ky.) 106-72.

In conference games, Arkansas slipped past Texas Christian 74-72 to regain a share of the Southwest lead with Southern Methodist; Richmond cracked hopeful Virginia Tech 66-60 in the Southern; Yale scored its first Ivy League, defeating hapless Brown 81-53; Texas Tech smothered Arizona (Tempe) State 113-63 in a border contest, and Kent State beat Western Michigan 97-90 in the Mid-American.

Syracuse trailed Cornell until the last 48 seconds of regulation time, then won 96-94 in overtime despite little Chuck Rolles' 42 points. Julius McCoy sank 27 points, to become the top scorer in Michigan State history (1,134) as the Spartans defeated Detroit 85-78.

Prommising Future

Chapel Hill, N. C.—(NEA)—There are only four seniors on the powerful University of North Carolina basketball team, and only two are starters.

Three University of North Carolina basketball records were broken when the Tar Heels beat Clemson, 103-99.

Century Club

Baton Rouge, La.—(NEA)—Since the advent of high-scoring basketball, Louisiana State University has been involved in 15 games where 100 or more points were scored by one team. The Tigers were the high scorers 11 times.

Mannie Seaman, former trainer for Joe Louis, plans to enter politics in New York city.

Swaps-Nashua Third Meeting Set in Florida

Miami, Fla., Feb. 2 (AP)—A third meeting between Nashua and Swaps shaped up today in the Gulstream Park Handicap March 17, with $100,000 or more awaiting the winner.

Swaps' nomination was received from California in yesterday's mail and Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, trainer of Nashua, said his colt's nomination is in the mail.

Horace Wade, racing secretary at Gulstream Park, said the purse would be increased from $50,000 to $100,000 and possibly more, for the race. He said he would confer with James Donn, Gulfstream Park president, on the possibility of making it $125,000 net to the winner of the mile and a quarter jaunt.

INFORMED that Swaps had been nominated, Fitzsimmons said it would have no bearing on plans for Nashua.

"If the horse is good and track conditions suit, we'll go with him," said the veteran trainer.

Swaps, now in California, won eight of nine starts last year. Including the Kentucky Derby where he beat Nashua. The Rex Ellsworth colt lost his only race in 1955 at Washington Park when Nashua whipped him in a match race.

Kaplans Stop Jaycees, 45-42 In Overtime

The Over 30 League produced a real stamina test as the Kaplan Bag Co. and the Jaycees dueled in overtime. The Kaplan crew put a 45-42 triumph in the bag.

Mort Gazlay tied it with a 25-foot one hander in the last four seconds of the regulation time, but Stan Cohn, who blistered the cords with 25 points, mesmerized the Jaycees in the overtime.

THE LEAGUE scorer's notation, which is presumed was an impartial observation, reported the Jaycees floundered in the clutch without Jack Doyle.

Gazlay, who spent most of the night at the foul line, bunched 12 free throws and four field baskets for 20 points. Jack Shults canned five fields for 10.

Center, Russell still is climbing as his opponent starts to come down. And at right, he's all alone, head and shoulders over the rest, as he follows through.

Won't Fix Commissions

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—The American Assn. of Advertising agencies (AAAA) has agreed in Federal Court not to attempt to fix the amount of commissions paid to agencies for placing newspaper and magazine advertising. The AAAA—one of six defendants in an antitrust action filed by the Department of Justice—also agreed to refrain from eight other specific practices. A consent decree signed by the AAAA was filed in Federal Court here yesterday. With entry of the decree the government dropped civil antitrust proceedings against the association.

Felix Foul Nips Phils

(By The Associated Press)

Lost in the mad scrambles for second place in the Eastern and the Western divisions of the National Basketball Assn., is the fact that Philadelphia and Fort Wayne cannot afford to be too complacent about their first-place positions.

Faltering Philadelphia lost its second game in two days to New York last night, 105-104 in double overtime. Only a Boston 107-106 loss to Minneapolis preserved the Warriors' 3½-game Eastern lead over the runnerup Celtics. The Knicks are 1½ games farther back.

Both Minneapolis and Rochester, 83-77 winner over Syracuse, gained a half-game on the idle Fort Wayne Pistons in the Western. Minneapolis retained its two-day-old second place spot over the Royals by a half-game and is now seven behind the Pistons.

WITH GEORGE Mikan rapidly rounding into form, the Lakers may soon regain their championship stride of other years.

A free throw with 15 seconds left by Neil Johnston climaxed a six-point Warrior rally in the last 3½ minutes of regular play against the Knicks and sent the game into the first overtime. Johnston then figured in reverse in the final margin of victory. A deliberate-foul call against him gave New York's Ray Felix two charity shots with seven seconds left in the second extra stanza and New York behind 104-103. Felix made both.

The standings:

EASTERN DIVISION	Won	Lost
Philadelphia	29	19
Boston	26	21
New York	24	22
Syracuse	20	26

WESTERN DIVISION	Won	Lost
Fort Wayne	26	18
Minneapolis	21	27
Rochester	21	28
St. Louis	18	26

Siena-St. John Game Saturday

Siena College will try for its second successive upset victory against St. John's of Brooklyn, one of the nation's highest scoring clubs, Saturday night at the Albany Armory.

The Redmen, coached by Al "Dusty" DeStefano, will be making their initial appearance in the Albany area, and will offer one of the tallest starting quintets in many years.

Leading the St. John's team and its 6-5 seasonal record are 6 foot 7 Mike Parenti and his 22.9 average. Other starters are Captain Dick Duckett, 6 foot 1, averaging 18.2; Bill Chrystal, 6 foot 5, 13.0; Dick Grogan, 6 foot 4, 12.3 and Bill Cowley, 6 foot 3, 9.5.

Siena has a 3-9 record after its 78-73 upset win over Manhattan.

Electrical Workers To Picket Post Office

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—Members of an electric workers union have been ordered to picket the General Post Office for three days, starting today, to protest a government contract with a non-union electrical firm.

This was announced today by Jeremiah P. Sullivan, president of Local 3, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

He said the picket lines at the post office, 8th avenue and 33rd street, would be manned from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily.

Some 2,000 workers plan to stage a mass protest demonstration there on Saturday, Sullivan said.

The picketing, he said, will demonstrate the union's objections to the awarding of a $1,000,000 contract for electrical work which began last month at the post office.

The award, he said, was made by the General Services Administration to Robert Simpson, Rochester, N. Y., contractor.

80-Acre Amusement Area Is Planned

Old Forge, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP)—An 80-acre amusement area for children will be constructed near here, possibly for use this summer.

Russell Patterson, illustrator and toy creator, will design the project, Joseph Uzdavinis of Utica, spokesman for a group of area businessmen financing the project, said yesterday.

Uzdavinis said the project, to be built about a quarter mile north of the center of Old Forge on Routes 28 and 365, would be somewhat similar, but on a smaller scale, to "Disneyland" in California.

The cost of the project, Uzdavinis said, could not now be estimated.

An erroneous report yesterday said the cost would be about a million dollars.

Adlai Ignores Blast By Estes' Backers

San Francisco, Feb. 2 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson ignored a new "bossism" blast by Sen. Estes Kefauver's supporters today and concentrated his California campaign on what he termed major failures of the Eisenhower administration.

Lyle Cook, Kefauver's northern California chairman, renewed charges that most state party leaders were aligned against the Tennessee senator's entry in the June 5 presidential primary. Nearly all ranking Democrats are pledged to Stevenson.

Stevenson headquarters said there would be no comment on Cook's latest assertion that "political bosses" have "hand picked and chosen" Adlai's 68-vote delegation to the Democratic national convention.

May Draft More Young Men Due To Help Reserve

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—More young men may be drafted to serve for shorter periods in a temporary move to bolster the lagging ready reserve program.

Secretary of Defense Wilson disclosed the tentative plan at a news conference yesterday. Still under discussion, it would cut from 24 to 18 months the required active service of as many as 100,000 present draftees who agree to remain in the ready reserve for at least 2½ years.

TO PROVIDE replacements for them and keep up the military strength, draft calls would be increased—perhaps doubled. Wilson emphasized that the program, if adopted, would be temporary and would extend no later than June 1957.

No special legislation would be required.

By 1959, Wilson said, the workings of last year's Reserve Forces Act will automatically build up the ready reserve—the men who would be called to arms at or shortly after the outset of another war. Service in the reserves is required of men drafted since the new law became effective.

Norway Awaits Ruling On Seized Trawlers

Oslo, Norway, Feb. 2 (AP)—Norway apparently will wait for a ruling from her courts before taking action on Russia's mildly worded demand for the release of 14 Soviet fishing boats seized as poachers by the Norwegian navy.

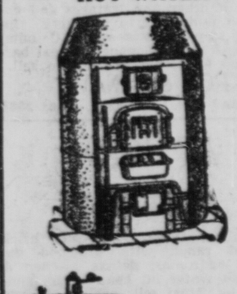

The Soviets termed the affair a misunderstanding.

The Red trawlers were rounded up this week in the rich herring banks off the west coast port of Alesund. Norway protested formally to the Soviet government that her waters had been invaded by about 75 Russian trawlers.

Reports from Alesund said no Soviet craft had been seized since early yesterday and the Rusian fleet apparently had put out to sea. Eight Norwegian naval craft were standing by in that area. Earlier the Norwegians said the Russians had returned each time the navy patrol chased them beyond the four-mile limit.

Auto Toll . . .

per cent over the 89,432 recorded in 1954.

Motor vehicle fatalities were responsible for the increase. Home accident deaths numbered 27,000, a slight decrease.

Accidental deaths at work added up to 14,200, a slight increase. Deaths in public but not involving motor vehicles made a small gain.

The all-accident death toll was substantially under the levels attained in some earlier years. It has topped 100,000 four times since 1934.

And the 1955 all-accident death rate of 56 per 100,000 population was the lowest on record except for the 55.5 mark attained in 1954.

BUT ONE OF EACH 18 persons in the United States suffered a disabling injury in 1955.

Falls last year cost 19,800 lives, burns 6,100, drownings 6,400, firearms 2,300—each total showing little change from the previous year.

The National Safety Council said 35 states had higher traffic death tolls, and the total was lower in 13 others.

STATES SHOWING reductions were listed as Idaho 23 per cent, Arizona 11, Minnesota 10, North Dakota 4; Kansas, Oregon, Nebraska, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming 3 per cent each; New Jersey 2 per cent, and Iowa and Maryland 1 per cent each.

At least 207 cities reported reductions. The largest decreases were credited to Syracuse, N. Y., with 37 per cent, Tampa, Fla., with 34 and Seattle and Dallas with 28 per cent each.

EIGHTY-ONE cities with a population of 10,000 or higher completed 1955 without a traffic death.

Highway Link

IN NEW JERSEY, the 164-mile parkway now runs from Cape May on the south to Paramus in the north.

It will be extended with a blacktop four-lane divided highway for 9½ miles to Montvale.

There will be one 25-cent toll gate at Washington (Bergen county), N. J., and five interchanges located at E. Ridgewood avenue, Paramus; Linwood avenue, Paramus; Washington avenue, Washington; Glen road, Woodcliff Lake, and Grand avenue, Montvale.

Above Montvale, the New York part will run for two miles to the Thruway east of the Spring Valley (N. Y.) toll barrier and will cost $4,300,000, Tallamy said. Trucks will be allowed on the New York spur.

The New York official said there probably will be interchanges at Pascack and Scotland Hill roads near Pearl River and at Williams and Schoolhouse roads near Nanuet.

35 Dead in Cold Wave

London, Feb. 2 (AP)—The death toll rose to at least 35 today in one of western Europe's worst cold waves of the century. Howling sub-zero winds brought misery to millions. Snow and ice stranded thousands of cars on highways and disrupted ship, rail and road traffic. Gas, electricity and water services were crippled in many cities. Emergency workers went to thousands of homes and factories to repair frozen and burst water and gas mains. Vacationers on the French Riviera huddled under furs and overcoats as the first heavy snowfall in 15 years fell on the sunshine resort area.

Driscoll to Coach Bears

Chicago, Feb. 2 (AP) — Owner George Halas of the Chicago Bears today named Paddy Driscoll, long-time assistant, as head coach of the Bears to succeed himself. Halas did not immediately say what the terms of contract, if any, were putting the 60-year-old Driscoll in charge of the Bears. Driscoll, one of the great drop-kickers of football, starred as a collegian at Northwestern and joined the Bears as a player in 1926. He has been a Bear assistant coach 15 years.

Channel Master Run-off Election Scheduled Feb. 10

New York, Feb. 2 (Special)—The National Labor Relations Board here announced Wednesday the scheduling of a run-off union election among employes of the Channel Master Corporation of Ellenville, on February 10.

The run-off was made necessary when the results of the January 20 election proved to be indeterminate.

In next week's election the production and maintenence employes will vote for or against the United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO, as their collective bargaining agent.

The previous balloting saw 303 votes cast for the steelworkers union, 86 for the Amalgamated Workers Union, Local 139, AFL-CIO, 264 for neither union and 10 challenged votes. Amalgamated, having received the least number of votes, was dropped from the ballot for the run-off.

Over-the-road truck drivers will vote by mail, as they did before. The union, in order to gain certification as collective bargaining agent by the labor board must receive a majority of all the votes cast.

Woman Plunges Seven Floors to Her Death

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—A woman who registered as Rita Schaffner plunged to death today from her seventh-floor room in the YWCA Tatham House, 138 E. 38th street.

Police said they found a chair next to the small open window in the room.

Among the woman's personal effects was a paper bearing the name of Mrs. Eric Boetzel, of 311 Wyckoff avenue, Jersey City, N. J.

A YWCA spokesman said the dead woman, about 40, moved into the residence last Saturday, giving Montefiore Hospital, Bedford Hills, N. Y., as her previous address.

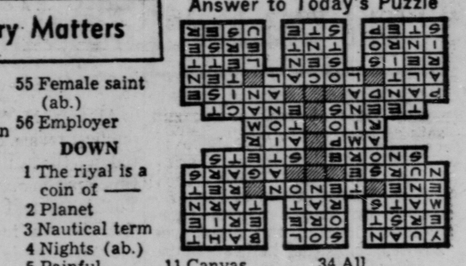

No Decision Yet

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—The Agriculture Department has given no indication when a decision would be reached on establishing a separate federal milk marketing order for 13 northern New Jersey counties. A proposal to establish the order was submitted yesterday to Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse by a three-member delegation representing the area's dairy industry. Floyd R. Hoffman, chairman of Gov. Robert B. Meyner's milk committee, said after the discussion with Morse that it had been "a very satisfactory conference." He added that Morse had given no indication when a decision would be reached.

More Truck Scales Idea Is Praised

Albany, Feb. 2 (AP)—A recommendation by Gov. Harriman that the state buy four more truck-weighing units has been praised by the Republican chairman of the joint legislative committee on carrier taxations.

In his annual budget message Harriman suggested the four units be rotated among 22 check points throughout the state. He said the devices would make possible better enforcement of the weight-distance tax law on heavy trucks.

Sen. George T. Manning of Rochester hailed the recommendation as "farsighted and practical economy."

The cost of the units, together with four trailers and automobiles to haul them, would be $42,000. The budget division estimated they would bring in $166,000 in additional revenue.

Dog Deadline Feb. 10

Henry Van Steenburg, local dog warden, today issued notice that Feb. 10 is the deadline for obtaining dog licenses without penalty. Dog owners who delay beyond that date are subject to a $10 penalty. A recent census showed a canine population of 2,565 in the city.

Norwich Man New Head of Car Dealers

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—Carl E. Fribley, an auto dealer from Norwich, N. Y., has been elected president of the National Automobile Dealers Assn.

Fribley was elected yesterday, the final day of the association's annual five-day meeting.

During its closing session the group notified the auto industry it will insist on a federal law making dealership franchises enforceable in court even if the motor companies voluntarily offer "satisfactory" contract revisions.

Fribley said the No. 1 objective for 1956 is a rewriting of the contracts. NADA contends the present arrangement has brought "Detroit domination" of dealers and "lowered morality" in selling and advertising.

"The manufacturers may adopt fair and equitable contracts, but nevertheless we must seek legislation to see that such contracts remain in force—because company managements change," Fribley said.

Held on 2 Charges

Leonard Lakin, 18, of Grahamsville, was arrested by state police from the Ellenville station Wednesday on charges of being an unlicensed operator and driving with improper plates. Before Justice Herbert Poppel a $10 fine or 10 days in jail was imposed on each charge. He was admitted to jail.

Late Trains Seen Indicating More Serious Trouble

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP)—A public service commissioner said today that unsatisfactory on-time performance of the New York Central Railroad "may well be an indication of more serious trouble in the operation of the railroad."

Spencer B. Eddy cautioned the railroad at a public hearing that he would seek "punitive action" against the Central if its main line trains continued to run behind schedule.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE law provides for penalties up to $5,000 a day for railroads that fail to comply with a commission order to maintain specified on-time standards.

Eddy's remarks were contained in a statement about the railroad's service. The commission said last month the Central's on-time performance in recent months had been "very poor."

Eddy noted the PSC had investigated the Central's on-time record three times since 1941. He said service was improved after each hearing but lapsed again.

At the last hearing, in June, 1952, Eddy told the railroad that if it were going to give "second-class service it could expect to charge only second-class fares."

The commissioner reported that the railroad's performance "approached an all-time low" last December.

"SERIOUS AS THIS lack of adequate performance is," he continued, "the commission is greatly concerned whether it may well be an indication of more serious troubles in the operation of the railroad."

A railroad spokesman said last month that an "unprecedented burden of holiday mail and express" contributed to the lateness of trains in December. He said performance had been improved since the holidays.

Eddy said improvements in service following the three previous hearings indicated that "management can, if it so desires," meet the commission's standards.

"The temporary corrective measures which have been taken in the past are not acceptable to me as a solution," the commissioner asserted. He added:

"I expect the company to demonstrate to my satisfaction that whatever steps it proposes to take will provide a permanent cure, otherwise, I shall recommend to the commission such punitive action as the facts justify."
